Price And Wage Freeze Order Is Imminent

Sweeping Order May Be Issued By Friday Night

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(INS)—The defense mobilization board today unanimously approved a nationwide price-wage freeze but issuance of the order probably will be delayed 24 hours until the wage stabilization policy is completed.

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The top level Defense Mobilization Board meets today for final action on a sweeping price-wage freeze order to be issued before tomorrow night.

Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson called the board to a session today to consider a freeze directive recommended by Price Administrator Michael V. DiSalle to halt soaring living costs.

At the same time the Labor Department reported that consumer prices closed out 1950 at a new record high.

Freeze Order Near

DiSalle and his aides, foreseeing further upward trends in living costs unless the government acts, hoped to get a price freeze order out by nightfall but there was a distinct possibility the action may not come before tomorrow.

Last minute administrative difficulties threatened to cause a 24-hour delay.

A member of the Defense Mobilization Board said that group is solidly behind freeze action and will offer no barrier to DiSalle's proposal.

In addition to Wilson, members commerce, interior, agriculture include the secretaries of labor, and defense, the chairman of the

He will spend about two weeks there conferring with MacArthur and Japanese government officials on treaty terms.

Dulles In Tokyo Ready To Talk On Peace Treaty

TOKYO, Jan. 25.—(INS)—John Foster Dulles, U. S. State Department adviser, arrived in Tokyo tonight to take part in discussions on a proposed Japanese peace treaty.

His plane landed at Tokyo's Haneda airfield at 8:30 p. m., (6:30 a. m. EST).

Dulles plans to talk with General Douglas MacArthur and Japanese government leaders on a peace treaty.

He was greeted at the airport by General MacArthur and Mrs. MacArthur and Ambassador William J. Sebald, ranking U. S. State Department officer in Japan as well as a crowd of spectators.

Dulles told newsmen on hand:

"We look upon Japan as a party to be consulted not as a vanquished nation to be dictated to by the victors."

During a stopover at Honolulu yesterday on his trans-Pacific flight Dulles said he expected to complete his work in Tokyo in two weeks.

Turnpike Revenue Much Higher In 1950 Than In 1949

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25.—Revenue collected from vehicles using the Pennsylvaina turnpike in 1950 was 28 per cent higher than in 1949, the turnpike commission reported today.

The number of vehicles rose 16 per cent, according to Chairman T. J. Evans.

"During 1950, including 42 days operation of the new 100-mile Philadelphia extension, a total of 4,488,538 trucks, buses and passenger cars, paid tolls amounting to $9,022,398," he said.

Evans said the Philadelphia extension contributed largely to the increase.

"Revenue was 52.8 per cent cent greater on the 260-mile system in 1950 than on the 160-mile system in 1949," he said.

"During 1950 the almost four and a half million fare-paying vehicles traveled 450 million miles." Evans said. Non-revenue vehicles, consisting of police, maintenance, supervisory and service accounted for 23 million miles more."

Gen. MacArthur Says U.N. Forces Can Hold Korea

Declares Enemy Forces In Korea Have Been Hurt Badly

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Jan. 25—Gen. Douglas MacArthur declared today that the Communist enemy in Korea "has been hurt badly" and he expressed confidence his United Nations forces can "hold a position in Korea indefinitely."

But he refused, in an interview with International News Service on the eve of his 71st birthday tomorrow, to predict the future course of the Korean war.

"To Hold Indefinitely"

"I am completely confident," said the U.N. supreme commander, "that we now have power in Korea sufficient to hold a position indefinitely.

"I will not go further than that in predicting the future of the war, for I am no seer and there are too many imponderables in war to permit conjecture.

"I do know the enemy has been hurt badly, and that he has had to fight a long war where he expected quick victory."

Beyond that the general would

U.S. Troops For Europe May Be On Ratio Plan

Congress Committees To Hear Eisenhower Report On Thursday

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The Senate's ranking GOP voice on military policy, predicted today that Congress may compromise its "troops to Europe" issue by agreeing on a fixed ration of U. S.-to-European divisions.

Sen. Bridges (R) N. H., said he would not be surprised to see Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower make such a recommendation when he reports to Congress next Thursday. Bridges added:

"I find that it appeals to many persons in high places, and it appeals to me."

No 'Ceiling' Involved

Bridges pointed out that such a program would involve no "ceiling" on America's contribution of ground forces but would make it clear that for each U. S. division put under Ike's command the other North Atlantic powers would put so many in the field.

The Senator said:

"That would provide protection for us and an incentive to the Europeans."

Bridges said that because of the wide extremes of view from a "no limit, no consultation stand to one of complete restriction of troops there is more and more feeling that for the good of the country there should be consultation between the executive and legislative branches and some satisfactory basis be worked out on a ratio of divisions."

Both the Senate foreign relations and armed services committees now plan to hear Eisenhower next Thursday afternoon, immediately after he reports to both houses of Congress in an informal session on his survey of European defenses.

Four Persons Burn To Death

CHICAGO, Jan. 25—(INS)—Four persons burned to death early today in two west side Chicago fires.

Three of the victims—a man and two boys—died when flames swept a 3-story apartment biulding. The fourth, a 65-year-old man, perished in a rooming house fire.

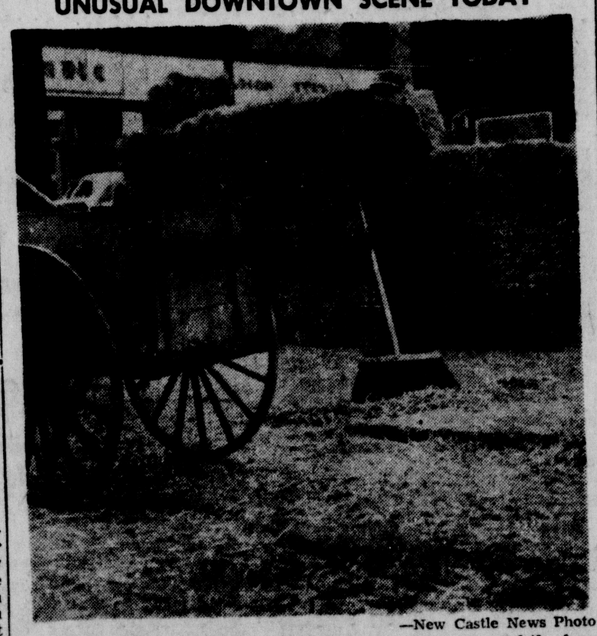

An unidentified woman and James Singleton, 21, were injured when they leaped from a second floor window of the apartment house.

Forty-five persons fled from the flames.

Early identification of the apartment fire victims was impossible because the bodies were so badly burned. They were found by firemen searching the ruins.

The rooming house fire victim was identified as James O'Connor. His body was found in his second-floor room.

Expect Britain And Canada To Disclose Stand

Decision Is Near On Attitude On China As Aggressor

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Britain and Canda, two key nations in the western battle against Soviet expansionism, are expected to disclose their stand today on the U. S. resolution branding Communist China an aggressor in Korea.

Sir Gladwyn Jebb of Britain and Canadian Foreign Minister Lester B. Pearson have placed themselves on the list of speakers in the U. N. political committee, scheduled to meet at 3 p.m.

Difficult Situation

A difficult situation faces both delegates over announcements by Australia and New Zealand as members of the commonwealth that they intend to support the United States resolution.

Up to now, Britain and Canada have leaned heavily toward India's "go slow" policy, with Prime Minister St. Laurent of Canada known to have worked actively with Premier Nehru of India in keeping negotiations going with Red China.

Sir Benegal Rau of India also is on the speakers' list. His spokesman said yesterday that a new communication received from the

Man And Woman In Bank Holdup Near Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—(INS)—A man and woman today robbed the bank of the Ohio Valley in nearby Woods Run of about $2,000.

The couple entered the bank shortly after it opened its doors at 9 a.m. Then after earlier customers had left, the man and woman walked to the teller's cage. The man kept one hand in his pocket, as if he had a gun, and handed teller Michael Kushner a note which read:

"This is a stickup."

Miss Agnes Yannos, a bookkeeper, said:

"It was a fellow and a girl, a young negro couple. They never said a word to Mr. Kushner."

Kushner opened his cash drawers and gave them the contents. As the thieves turned to leave, Kushner banged his drawer to attract attention.

Then, he yelled to another cashier, "it's a stickup."

The man and woman ran through the entrance and took separate escape routes.

Big Three Present Solid Front To Soviet Russia

By GEORGE DURNO
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The United States, Britain and France presented Russia with a solid front today in their demand that any further Big Four foreign ministers' conference consider the world crisis and not just a segment of it.

The western Big Three, in identical notes, told the Soviet Union that a conference devoted exclusively to Germany, as suggested by Moscow, "would be inadequate and unreal."

Will Not Be Budgeted

The notes echoed previous ones sent to the Kremlin December 22, and indicated that the western powers would not be budged from their stand that any conference must consider more than the demilitarization of Germany.

The U. S., Great Britain and France again urged the Soviets to be "prepared to discuss the elimination of the principal causes of the present international crisis" and asked for further clarification of the Russians' views.

They stated flatly:

"The tension which exists in the world today does not arise from the German problem."

Counter Proposal

As in the case when the Kremlin first suggested the conference, the western powers countered with a proposal for a preliminary meeting of deputies to draw up an agenda with the topics arranged in the order in which they would be taken up.

The Big Three suggested that the deputies meet in Paris. Under the western plan, the deputies would be concerned only with arranging a program for the foreign ministers—not with the solution of any problems.

Washington officials are frankly skeptical that anything would be gained by such a conference but the door is left open for a top-level session with the Russians. Few observers believe the western terms are such that the Soviets will accept them.

The latest western notes again stated that Russia's charges about the extent of rearmament in Allied-occupied West Germany "are completely without foundation."

Red Force Being Badly Battered Near Yongwol

Encircled Enemy Force Is Being Decimated Now

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(I. N. S. Foreign Director)

TOKYO, Jan. 25. — United Nations divisions trapped a big Red force southwest of Yongwol today and were chopping it to pieces in a huge drive to erase a threat to the Allied east flank in South Korea.

A front dispatch said the UN troops were decimating the encircled enemy force—a major segment of 30,000 North Korean regulars and guerrilas, including 500 amazons, in the east-central sector.

Simultaneously, other UN spearheads raced seven miles north from recaptured Yongwol in pursuit of Communist troops fleeing from Korea's "mining capital."

Chinese Appear in Retreat

Chinese and North Korean troops, hit by incessant air strikes, were apparently retreating at several points along the 150-mile Korean front, while at others the enemy was offering somewhat stiffer resistance to UN probing punches.

Charge Man Was Carrying $50,000 In Illegal Gold

BOSTON, Jan. 25.—(INS)—A diminutive Brooklyn, N. Y., diamond cutter, considered a key to a huge international diamond smuggling ring, was held by customs officials who said he was arrested carrying $50,000 in illegal gold.

Authorities said the gold was found on Sol Bienstock, 31, who was picked up as he prepared to board an airliner at Logan International airport for Madrid and Tangier, North Africa.

Customs men said the gold was found sewn in the lining of a vest and in false compartments of two suitcases and a bag. They estimated its worth at more than $200,000 in the "free" or "black" gold market.

Customs officials were hopeful that questioning of Beinstock would aid them in breaking an international diamond smuggling ring.

EXPECT BRITAIN AND CANADA TO DISCLOSE STAND

Indian ambasador in Peiping indicated that Red China is ready to join a seven-power conference outside of China and the United States for the purpose of negotiating immediately a cease-fire in Korea.

Consequently, the 12-member Arab-Asia bloc introduced a resolution proposing the summoning as soon as possible of such a conference pjarticipated in by Russia, Britain, the United States, France, Egypt, India and Communist China.

Obstacles To Vote

The Arab-Asia resolution again puts obstacles in the way of an early vote on the American resolution. U. S. sources even consider it doubtful whether a decision can be reached by Saturday.

At present, pressure by the U. S. might result in a substantial majority vote for the American resolution but without healing the gap in Anglo-American unity on the issue of branding Red China an aggresor.

A canvass of delegates indicates that the 20-member Latin-American bloc stands solidly with the U. S. The six-nation Arab league group had joined with India in leading the fight for a "go slow" policy and for persisting in direct contacts with Peiping. In a showdown, the Arab league will abstain on the U. S. resolution.

Commonwealth Nations Split

The commonwealth nations are split, as revealed by the announcements of New Zealand and Australia in favor of the U. S. resolution. The Scandinavian group has been extremely cautious and at the moment is reluctant to give hasty consent to a condemnation of Red China. France, Belgium and Luxembourg appear to have swung back to the United States.

Warren Austin, chief American delegate, again warned the U. N. yesterday not to be fooled by Peiping's peace bids. He said there was no indication that Peiping has had a change of heart toward compliance with U. N. principles.

to organize on the same elaborate scale as during World War II, but we will have a force which will be ready for action should an attack be made upon our city.

"With the cooperation of all city officials, and divine guidance of God, there is nothing which cannot be accomplished, and I believe Mr. Davis will have his system organized within the near future."

Equipment Stored

Speaking of civil defense, it may be mentioned that due to the foresight of Mayor Haven, following the end of World War II hostilities, the city, is in a good position to provide assistance in case of attack.

Instead of selling some OCD equipment, he retained it and had it stored at Deshon village. The city now has six auxiliary fire engine pumpers, hundreds of stirrup cans, and hundreds of helmets.

The auxiliary engines could reinforce the present fire department, and the stirrup cans, which are hand operated, can be distributed, to extinguish fires, started by incendiary bombs.

As co-ordinator to the director, Mayor Haven, Mr. Davis said today: "I will start immediately to make plans for forming groups which will perform well should our city be attacked by a foreign power."

PRICE AND WAGE FREEZE IMMINENT

Federal Reserve Board and the chairman of the National Security Resources Board, W. Stuart Symington.

Drastic Action

The board reportedly has been backing drastic anti-inflation action for the past two or three weeks, ever since DiSalle first advanced his idea for a temporary 30-day price freeze. That proposal was over-ruled by former Economic Stabilizer Alan Valentine, subsequently replaced by Eric Johnston.

Johnston is lined up with DiSalle in support of immediate price wage controls.

As his first action after taking office Wednesday, Johnston delegated to DiSalle and Wage Board Chairman Cyrus S. Ching operating authority in the price-wage field. They will function, however, subject to the supervision and direction of Johnston.

DiSalle announced his recommendations for a general price Freeze after testifying yesterday before the joint congressional economic committee. He said the freeze action will cover meat prices, a difficult item to control, and will involve a rollback of prices from current levels.

In loving memory of my dear aunt and friend who died one year ago today, January 25th, 1950.
When evening shades are falling,
And we sit in quiet, alone,
To our hearts there comes a longing,
If she only could come home.
Friends may think we have forgotten,
When at times they see us smile,
But they little know the heartache
Our smiles hide all the while,

RED FORCE BEING BADLY BATTERED

drawing" from a point five miles north of Osan, 28 air miles south of Seoul.

It said armored UN patrol columns renewed "extensive patrolling" along the vital western front below Seoul during the morning without any appreciable contact with Communist troops.

Reach Fringe of Defenses

However, field dispatches said Allied patrols had begun reaching the southern fringe of enemy defenses southeast of the Red-occupied Korean capital.

One 3,000-man Communist group was reported entrenched in feverishly reinforced positions northwest of Yoju, 38 miles southeast of Seoul.

The Eighth Army's night summary said that in the flaming east-central sector tank-tipped UN patrols, supported by mobile artillery and swarming planes, knifed seven miles north from Yongwol during the morning.

These vanguard units reported making no contact with enemy forces which were apparently fleeing north after their unsuccessful attempts to infiltrate through Sobaek mountain passes into South-Korea.

Big Force Surrounded

International News Service War Correspondent Robert Schakne related in a field dispatch at 7:15 Thursday evening (5:15 a.m. EST) that UN "divisions" surrounded a "large force" of North Korean troops just southwest of Yongwol.

The dispatch said the Allied forces were "decimating" the trapped Reds in a battle to annihilate the enemy force.

Further details of the action were not permitted to pass through the Eighth Army's censorship for the present.

However, earlier advices had said that elements of a 30,000-troop North Korean force, including guerrillas and 500 Communist women armed with rifles, had lanced all the way down to and beyond Tanyang.

That town is 18 miles south-southwest of Yongwol and only 65 miles north of the old Pusan beachhead perimeter in Korea's southeast corner.

The present UN offensive action was evidently designed to destroy this enemy threat to the east flank and rear of the Allied troops in the central and west sectors.

not go and jokingly suggested that a birthday was hardly the time for war talk.

In the rambling unhurried interview in his spacious office, MacArthur cautiously avoided discussion of anything that would indicate to the enemy United Nations' military or political plans or prospects.

His manner, his vigor and his words, however, underlined his confidence that militarily the United Nations' forces are all right in Korea and will stay all right.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(INS)—Science has steadily improved upon Nature in producing better synthetic replacements for natural drugs. Chemists of the Arner Company, pharmaceutical manufacturers, report many of the ingredients they use in medicaments today are synthesized. These are specific chemicals for definite ills. Drugs in natural form may not be up to desired strength, be less reliable in performance, and more subject to deterioration on prolonged storage.

FRENCH DIKE IS HOLDING

In Indo-China, as in Korea, the "human sea" tactics favored by Communist military strategists have not been working out quite as expected. Twice since Christmas the Vietminh forces have mounted strong offensives against the French, twice they have made initial gains, and twice they have been forced to withdraw after taking severe losses. They will have to try again if they are still determined to win a major victory.

They probably will try again, for the defense command does not think the Vietminh forces have been crippled. It is the opinion in Hanoi that the Communist-led rebels will strike once more—this time with artillery, armored vehicles, and motor transport. But there is a new confidence among the French, for they have just turned back an attack that might well have overwhelmed them only two months ago.

So the dispatches say, and they are to be read with considerable satisfaction because the loss of Indo-China to the Communists would almost certainly mean an all-Communist Asia. But it is even better to read that the Vietminh forces have been handicapped by a serious supply problem. They have plenty of men but they are having a hard time keeping them fed, clothed, armed, provided with ammunition, and cared for if wounded.

These difficulties have not seemed to trouble them overmuch in the past. But things are different now because the French have been carrying on their defense from behind a shortened perimeter, because reinforcements have arrived, and because American equipment has been put into use. Against a determined defense, it appears, even the seemingly limitless manpower resources of the Communists are not an invincible weapon.

WINTER WONDERLAND

The creation of numerous and sometimes overlapping federal agencies has produced a state of confusion distinctly reminiscent of World War II in the minds of many officials.

In the maze of alphabetical agencies and bureaus, there emerges once again the question of authority over certain phases of the nation's war effort. General administrative problems are multiplying.

Of course, some of this confusion is unavoidable because of the complex and sweeping nature of plans necessary to mobilize a population of 150,000,000 plus.

However, many officials feel that the same mistake of World War II is being made all over again. That is, they say there is no clear delineation of lines of authority.

For example, there's some doubt about where the powers of Securities Resources Board Chairman Stuart Symington end and those of Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson begin. Theoretically, Wilson is Symington's superior but it may not work out that way in practice.

One explanation is that Symington formulates policy and Wilson directs the administration of policy. Many officials feel that both policy-making and administration should be delegated to one man—not two.

A MILLION

An economist of an earlier generation once declared the average person cannot vision a million dollars. What he meant was simply that the sum of one million applied to money was beyond the understanding of the average citizen. He went on to say that a million dollars would supply every need and whim of its owner, and actually make him rich beyond any human desire.

When President Truman announces a proposed budget of $71,000,000,000 even the most learned economist can hardly comprehend such sum. That is, by simple arithmetic, 71,000 millions, a staggering total. Reducing it to what may be simpler terms, Mr. Truman's demands will place a debt on every man, woman and child in the nation of nearly $400.

While the need for these billions of dollars is great, back of the spending lurks the threat of inflation, as well as a general breakdown of the nation's financial system. Fundamentally that system is based upon the integrity of the American dollar, both at home and abroad.

When it becomes necessary to dish them out in such staggering sums great care must be taken to prevent the dollar from becoming so cheap it no longer serves its purpose as the foundation of a great economy.

JAM SESSIONS

Lack of understanding between nations makes world problems harder to solve. There would be little profit in trying to "understand" the Russians right now. But failure to understand what this nation and friendly countries have in common is a weakness. And understanding often is cemented by little things.

How many people, either in America or in India, know that one thing they have in common is jam sessions? Russia scorns jam sessions as inane orgies. Actually they are spontaneous improvisations on a melodic theme, often done with great originality and brilliant musicianship. But they are not an American invention.

India invented no saxophone, though some of her instruments are weirder than that. But players of her exotic old songs often set a theme and then improvise on it as much and as long as possible. What's that but a jam session? This strictly minor example illustrates a major truth: Nations always have more in common than most of their people realize.

Britain Reluctant To Act

Great Britain's extreme reluctance to support any measures that could lead to a complete and open break between the Western nations and Communist China has become overwhelmingly evident.

Prime Minister Attlee reported to the House of Commons on the Far Eastern situation when parliament reassembled after a long vacation recess.

The nub of his long and carefully thought out speech was contained in one sentence.

He said that Britain concedes that Communist China should be condemned for intervening in Korea in suport of North Korean aggression.

Wants China Branded

But assisting an aggressor can be interpreted as something quite different from outright aggression. The United States wants China branded as an outright aggressor on the grounds that by pouring troops across the Manchurian border the Chinese started what Gen. Douglas MacArthur described as "a brand new war."

The jockeying for position in the grave Far Eastern crisis before the United Nations and before parliaments has few parallels in modern times.

It is inconceivable that the people of Britain needed the warning given by Winston Churchill of the "grave dangers" inherent in any major Anglo-American foreign policy split.

Yet he hammered away at this point. He warned also that efforts to divide the United Nations could benefit only Soviet Russia.

Nevertheless, it is clear that Britain is not prepared to go the whole distance in supporting the American stand at Lake Success.

Diplomatic Complications

Thus while the military complications in Korea grow, the diplomatic ones also increase out on Long Island, in Washington and in London and no clear solution of the manifold problem is anywhere in sight.

Attlee made it clear that Great Britain has not abandoned hope of peaceful negotiations. But at the same time he admitted that the latest "offer" from Peiping with regard to a Korean cease fire might turn out to be an Oriental trick—a conclusion that the Truman administration seems to have reached at the beginning.

The reasons for British hesitation at the present time are clear.

Already heavily committed on Malaya and elsewhere in the Far East, Britain cannot afford to risk any extension or prolongation of conflict.

By the same token, she can ill afford to tamper with the precarious protective military balance in Europe.

These two factors have combined to produce the repeated charges that Britain is being "half-hearted" both about fighting in Korea for the United Nations and in throwing in her weight in favor of a strong U.N. diplomatic stand.

Try To Put Over Idea

Time and again British officials have tried to put over in an impressive manner how much military force and how much money Britain already has tied up in the Far East as anti-Communist bulwarks.

They have emphasized their action in terminating Marshal Plan aid before the due date as proof of Britain's desire to elminate the heavy burdens that the east-west conflict have placed upon the treasury and people of the United States.

Yet the fact remains that it is hard for the American people to understand the British attitude, particularly when in the midst of the crisis large sections of the British Press have embarked upon criticism of Gen. MacArthur and his handling of the role of United Nations commander.

What the outcome may be of the present diplomatic impasse is as impossible to predict as the final result of the Korean war itself.

Unless there is a fundamental overhaul of British policy, however, one thing is clear: the British are going to use every conceivable measure of restraint before plunging into what they feel might well become a vortex of incalculable danger.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TRAINING THE PRESCHOOL CHILD

Occasionally, in this column, I have suggested many ways of preparing the baby and young child for entering school. Cultivate good health habits in him. Train him early in respect for the rights and possessions of others and regard for constituted authority. Provide him with a family atmosphere of serenity, understanding and affection. Help him to learn to feel comfortable out of the presence of each and both of his parents and to enjoy the loving care by other persons and lots of fun with other children of his own age. Encourage creative play in him alone and with other children. Read to him and encourage his inventions with words and things. (My bulletin "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.)

As you can see, all or any of these means of early education of the child should enable him better to adapt himself to new and strange persons caring for and guiding him.

Reading To Child

While reading to the young child at home and encouraging him to create with objects, crayons or words help prepare him to concentrate and go on in these activites at school, they also prepare him to go on enjoying such experiences elsewhere when not in the presence of his father or mother, therefore, less dependent emotionally on them.

The young child who is often read to easily enjoys listening to whoever will read to him. Indeed, a total stranger might easily win his warm friendship through a story and almost any adult or older child can read to a little child, and thereby make him feel more secure. My bulletin "Books from Which To Read to the Baby and Young Child" (to be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me) gives seventeen good reasons for reading to the little child. Moreover, the youngster three, four or five who has learned to amuse himself with blocks, crayons, scissor, paste and the like for protracted periods, who also has learned to enjoy long periods at play with other children of his age, has had experiences which help enable him to feel comfortable without being entertained by his mother or father, comfortable out of their presence.

Absence Of Father

For the child to have early and continued education in these directions is to help prepare him to get along in the absence of his father, mother or both, without excessive emotional disturbance—in case of bereavement or separation, because the mother's working or the father's inducted into the armed forces.

In any family, even under the most favorable conditions, that child is brought up best, all other things being equal, who while feeling loved and wanted, also gradually grows less and less dependent emotionally on either parent or any other one person. Let us so live with our children today that they will need us less tomorrow. Furthermore, let us so live with them that they will not cease to lean on the arms of the Almighty.

Just imagine what resources young children might have for being comforted and made more secure, in case there were forced evacuation of them in an emergency. While the biggest problem of young children under such circumstances is separation from their parents, such resources as we have emphasized should make this problem less severe.

State Police Say:

If you are one of those drivers who feel that an accident couldn't happen to you, may we point out that in recent months a world famous movie actor, an ex-world's heavyweight champion, a celebrated author and two generals of the U. S. Army have been killed in traffic accidents. And if accidents such as you read about in your newspaper can happen to the people mentioned above, may we ask you a very frank question: Who do you think you are?

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

The executive board of the AFL is meeting daily under the hot sun in Miami, but no sacrifice is too great for these venerable guardians of the laboring man's rights.

Winter after winter they subject themselves to the danger of sunburn in Miami when they could stay up north and be nice and frostbitten like their flock.

And what a temptation it is to stay in Chicago, New York, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, when the winter winds howl and the cold settles on the land. . . . But they've resisted it for years.

To us they bequeath the snow and the ice and the rich, full life of the job-shackled as they bravely doff their overcoats, don their seersuckers and head gallantly south.

And never a change in the faces, never a deserter, year in, year out, Green, Tobin, Hutcheson, et. al. . . . Truly the Democratic process at its best.

But I see you are weeping? Enough of this!

Sorry For Our Thinkers

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

Isn't it nice not to be a thinker.

Isn't it nice to wake up in the morning and know that you don't have a thing to offer your countrymen.

Isn't it nice to know that you are a plain, sunny side up, white toast on the side, American.

Isn't it nice to know that you are just a plain citizen, with no more brains than the guy next door, that all you have to offer is most of your money in taxes, your kids to fight and, if needs be, your wife to rivet a plane.

I get real sorry for our thinkers. They don't have a minute's peace.

They're either shooting for acclaim, headlines, votes, or next year's salary.

Can You Imagine?

Can you imagine being married to a man who, while he is brushing his teeth or combing his hair, is thinking what he is going to say about changing the world—knowing all the while he isn't going to change it a lick.

Stassen comes back from a round-the-world trip and is photographed getting off an airplane, spouts fifteen minutes, and then greets the press in a hotel room.

By any chance does he think his words change the feeling in the hearts of Danes, Swedes, Turks, Norwegians and Russians?

Truman talks for hours, telling us what is happening, as if we didn't know.

Hoover talks. Dewey talks. Dulles talks. Congressmen and senators talk.

They act and talk as if they didn't know this country, this United States of America, is us.

Me and you. The guy next door. The guy down the street. The lady in the little house on the corner.

Don't They Like To Talk

But don't they like to talk!

They're aiming for something all the time.

They're aiming for their party, or they're aiming for people to like them or they're aiming for a temporary statue.

I have yet to see a division of thinkers capture and hold any beachhead.

In my experience, the army always sent boatloads of common people to wade through the water, dig in, and walk forward against nastiest sound on earth—loose bullets.

I have yet to see men, all of whom have warned the American public against the dangers it faces, do anything positive about getting rid of the danger. It's a lot different facing a microphone or a camera, and facing a bunch of men who want to shoot you and are there for that express purpose.

But this country has more thinkers than the law allows. We have men who knock MacArthur who wouldn't know how to fire a mortar if it was given to them for Christmas. We have men who discredit Gen. Eisenhower, when all he has done is give his best for his country. We have men who think Truman's just an average man, without asking themselves what they are.

I'm glad I know nothing. I am just poor, plain Henry, ready like millions of others, to do what I can for my country . . . without benefit of tax-free pay, police sirens to pave my way, strings to pull, and—well, you plain people like me know what I'm talking about.

A. L. Kaminstein of the Library of Congress copyright office, tells of an elderly spinster who had always wanted to write poetry but had had to work so hard she never could find time. Finally she sold her little shop, however, and decided to woo the Muse in earnest. Being an upright citizen, her first move was to write to the copyright office, requesting a poetic license!

The acidulous sergeant caught a recruit with a single button unfastened. "Ah," he said with fine scorn. "Sunbathing, eh?"

The editor of the Wapaloosa Register (guaranteed circulation 1,008) came home to dinner in rare good humor. "Remember old Skinflint Rose on the Main Turnpike who hasn't paid up his subscription in nine years?" he called to his wife. "Danged if he didn't traipse in this morning and cancel it!"

FLAXSEED TEA

There was a stuff called flaxseed tea
The mother used to brew for me
And make me take, as I was told:
"Because you have a nasty cold."

Now slimy stuff is flaxseed tea,
As all who've taken it agree.
I thought it, as a little lad,
Much nastier than the cold I had.

Today with tablets and with shots
The mothers cure their little tots.
They fight no battles, as with me,
To make them swallow flaxseed tea.

The mother long has been away.
But I've a "nasty cold" today
And were she here I know that she
Would now be brewing flaxseed tea.

Born in Woonsocket, R. I., Nov. 28, 1903, after his college days, J. Howard McGrath, was admitted to the Rhode Island bar, in 1929. He became city solicitor for the town of Central Falls, R. ## Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Gen. Eisenhower's Tour Success

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—All reports, both public and private, agree that General Eisenhower's tour of Europe has been an unqualified success. Far more than the actual steps taken to accelerate North Atlantic defenses is the current of hope stirred by Eisenhower's confident, vigorous presence.

He referred to himself jokingly before he left as a psychological bomb. And that phrase expresses the impact that he has made on the European capitals as he has moved from one to the other.

This is, of course, the answer to the controversy in the Senate. Already the force of the Eisenhower mission has reduced the terms of that controversy. Senator Taft of Ohio has modified his position to stand now on a limitation on the number of American troops which may be sent to Europe. He originally challenged the President's right to send any more American divisions.

No Easy Task Ahead

Eisenhower's task when he returns will not be an easy one. When he goes before Congress, he will be pressed hard to give the kind of iron-clad assurances that Congress longs to hear. His problem then will be to say enough without saying too much.

For he will know, as any realist must know, that there is no guarantee of security in any plan of defense in the present perilous state of the world. But along with America's top military command, Eisenhower believes it is imperative to try to save for the defense of the west America's allies in Western Europe with their great industrial complex and their resources of men and materials.

'This Is Great Gamble'

This is a great gamble. But it is less of a gamble, in the view of military men, than the Gibraltar concept of falling back to a bastion in the Western Hemisphere. The latter, as they see it, means a certain conflict on the most impossible terms.

Avoiding one of those final, positive statements that Congress presses for, Eisenhower will have to give his opinion on the defense of Western Europe with the assistance of American divisions. No one can doubt that with his prestige and his capacities as a soldier-diplomat he will be able to do this to the satisfaction of almost everyone.

Additional American Troops

On the basis of his findings thus far, Eisenhower tends to confirm the estimate for additional American troops that had been tentatively worked out before his departure. As was stated recently in this space, a period of nine to 16 months. This would make a total of six American divisions in Western Germany by the spring of 1952.

The biggest gamble is on whether Russia means to move in Europe in 1951 in order to prevent this accretion of power. Neither Eisenhower nor anyone else outside the secret fastness of the Kremlin in Moscow can answer that question. The signs can be read either way.

Besides his testimony before Congressional committees, it is now contemplated that Eisenhower will make a nationwide broadcast, reporting on his survey. The emphasis will be on the determination of America and the Western Allies to try to preserve the peace through a common defense effort.

Stress In Everything Said

That has been the stress in everything Eisenhower has said on his current tour. And it is an important contribution. As Senator Brien McMahon pointed out in his Senate speech, we have let the Soviet Union appropriate the world's hope of peace while too many policy-makers in this country make inflammatory statements that seem to lend credence to the Russian charge of warmonger.

Similarly, Eisenhower has taken a common-sense attitude toward German rearmament. He has been acutely aware of the error in giving the Germans the impression that western defense plans were dependent on German divisions. On his visit to Frankfort he sought to correct this by stating frankly that it was up to the German people to make their own choice. For the time being, as Eisenhower sees it, nothing substantial can be done about German rearming. In terms of German politics and German opinion, the problem must be allowed to simmer.

The Communist leadership correctly recognizes the high significance of Eisenhower's mission in rebuilding European confidence. That is the reason for the demonstrations in Rome and Paris.

It is also the reason for the new barrage of Soviet propaganda aimed at France and Britain. This fear propaganda linked to the question of the Soviet treaties with the two countries is intended to undermine and destroy the confidence and cooperation Eisenhower is helping to build. It is designed to convince opinion, both in Western Europe and America, that cooperation will mean war. To stand up to that barrage will take the kind of resolution and singleness of purpose that Eisenhower has sown in his current mission.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

"The secret of happiness lies in not trying to achieve what one WANTS to do, but in learning to like what one HAS to do."

A New York press agent sent out this sentiment as originated by him. I am more inclined to attribute it to Confucius.

Yet, no matted whether Confucius or the press agent originated it, there is a lot of trutn in it.

We need some of that more restful philosophy in these hectic days.

For want of a better name, let me call it "sedentary philosophy" rather than that supercharged philosophy by which most of us live nowadays.

I browsed about a bit in the sayings of Confucius, who lived 2500 centuries ago, when China was still ruled by wise men rather than by ruthless red criminals.

Let me quote a few that may give you food for thought:

"Today a man is called dutiful if he keeps his father and mother. But we keep both our dogs and horses, and unless we honor our parents, is it not all one?

"Listen much, keep silent when in doubt and always take heed of the tongue; thou wilt make few mistakes. See much, beware of pitfalls, and always give heed to thy walk; thou wilt have little to rue.

"A gentleman considers what is right; the vulgar consider what will pay. A gentleman is careful and does not trip; he is humble toward others and courteous.

"Rate the task above the prize; will not the mind be raised? Fight thine own faults, not the faults of others; will not evil be mended?

To the question whether a man should be liked by all his neighbors, Confucius replied:

"No. It would be betted if the good men of the neighborhood liked him, and the bad men of the neighbodhood hated him."

Here are a few more of his sayings:

"Men are near to each other at birth: the lives they lead sunder them.

"Only the wisest and stupidest of men never change.

"The days and months glide by; the years do not tarry for us.

"Why use an ox-knife to kill a fowl?

"A fierce outside and a weak core, is it not like a paltry fellow, like a thief who crawls through a hole in the wall?"

And here is a bit that might well apply to 1951 as it did to the sixth century B. C., when Confucius said it.

Tzu-kung, one of his disciples, asked him to explain the craft of ruling one's country.

"Food enough, troops enough, and a trusting people," the Master replied.

Tzu-kung said: "Were there no help for it, which could best be spared of the three?" "Troops," said the Master.

"And were there no help for it, which could better be spared of the other two?" "Food," said the Master. "From of old all men die, but without trust a people cannot stand."

Take all these as you will—they are Confucius', not mine.

JANUARY THAW—BIG RUN WHERE IT CROSSES FREW MILL ROAD

JANUARY THAW

Respite from a snow fettered and ice buttressed winter in the north country almost unfailingly comes some time in January. Warm, so-called chinook winds prevade the countryside and raise havoc with the accumulations of ice and snow. The thaw is the first intimation of the spring that is to come. It is a spark of hope and encouragement to the hardbitten dwellers of the snowy wastes.

We who live in what is supposed to be a milder clime and have thus far experienced a winter as tough as any that can be dished out in the north country, welcomed the extensive thaw of last week.

At 7:00 a. m., on Friday our thermometer registered a comfortable 52. You may recall that during the day it climbed to an official 63. On Saturday it hit a high of 66. Heretofore unassailable snowbanks and reinforced ice ladened with the sooty debris of the past five or six weeks, succumbed to the blandishments of caressing breezes and warm sun.

View Damage Done

For the first time we viewed the damage done to our rose beds by a huge snowdrift abetted by more of the white stuff shoveled from the drive. The plants were a mass of twisted, broken branches in some places completely pulled from the ground by the weight of the snow. Well, there's nothing much that can be done except to prune the damaged branches and then cover the plants with straw as is usually done after the first freeze. Since most of the canes well covered by the snow there was little or no frost damage.

The evergreens? A sorry sight, they. Most of ours will need replacing. However, it will pay to examine for broken branches and cleanly prune them off. Small azaleas and rhodendrons were pretty badly mangled. Judicious pruning will help, cutting in such a way as to retain as symmetrical a shape as possible.

There was plenty of insect activity on all three warm days. On late Thursday afternoon the spinners (resembling oversize mosquitoes) were abroad, loose clouds of them dancing here and there in the waning light. Ladybugs dislodged from behind the security of window sashes and door frames moved sluggishly about in the warming sun. We brushed up a handful of the useful insects from the back porch and dropped them back of the woodpile in the garage.

Insects are quick to respond to a rising temperature and a brilliant sun. On Friday were observed honey bees, both blue bottle and house flies, several mourning cloak butterflies and a number of unidentified gnats.

Various Reactions

The various reactions of local weather prognosticators to the unseasonal high temperatures are worthy of note. One chap reckoned that the mild spell presaged a period of unprecedented low temperatures and heavy snows. Another declared that our winter was behind us, that from now on we may expect a lot of mild weather interspersed with only occasional nippy periods. He continued, "The sun is getting high and we have a short month ahead of us. Before we know it we'll be seeing our first robin."

We hope that the latter is right, but since the weather this year is as unpredictable as a maiden's affections, it may be that that first robin may suffer a severe case of frost bite. But, human nature being what it is, naturally we are inclined to favor the more optimistic prognostication.

Fifty Robins!

On Monday evening at least fifty robins were seen feeding in a field near the Frank Hay residence on the New Castle-Ellwood road. Since Mr. Hay observed them to be well fed and brightly colored it may be assumed that they were probably new arrivals from the southland. The birds were seen by the entire Hay family and remained about for approximately thirty minutes.

The name "Century plant" was originally given to a group of desert plants because it was mistakenly believed that they bloomed only once in 100 years.

Observe Birth Of Kiwanis Club

Commemorate Birth Of Service Group

New Castle Kiwanis Club had a dual birthday celebration in connection with its weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday noon, when the birth of Kiwanis International in 1914; and the formation of the New Castle Club, in 1920 was commemorated.

Past President John A. McGrath told about the formation of Kiwanis International, which was first organized as an insurance club in the city of Detroit, with James J. Brant, a tailor; and Allan S. Brown, an organizer for the Moose, as its sponsors.

Later, it became an organization to promote the business interests of its members, and finally became a national and later an international organization, designed to promote civic interests and the welfare of mankind in general.

The first meetings between Brant and Brown took place in 1914, and shortly the name of Kiwanis, which meant "we trade," was adopted, and the slogan "We Build," adopted.

In concluding his remarks, Mr. McGrath urged Kiwanians to renew their pledge to the club and to become real builders.

Secretary L. C. Mantz, who is one of the charter members of the club, told about the early history of New Castle Kiwanis, which was organized in the fall of 1919, receiving its charter in 1920, with fifty members. James K. Love was the first president. The charter was received on January 22, 1920.

Charter members who have an unbroken term of membership include: Lee Marvin, James Mayberry, Robert L. Wallace, R. L. Meermans, and Fred C. Wolford.

Among the early activities of the club was the organization of a drum corps, a baseball team, and many other activities. The club helped the Margaret Henry Home in its early struggles, held Christmas parties for the children there, and donated much playground equipment.

Among the guests was Lt. Governor L. D. Smith, of Beaver Falls, who was accompanied here by several members of the Beaver Falls club.

WORCESTER, Mass.—A traffic light exploded, knocked down a policeman and blew windows out of two passing buses. Illuminating gas from a leaking underground main seeped through the light's hollow chamber, where it was detonated by an electric spark.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 25—(INS)—The trouble with American fashion is the women are too good-looking!

That's the opinion of Walter Florell, milliner and philosopher of East 53rd street.

He said today: "American women start out with so much good looks that they don't find it necessary to develop aids and artifices of fashion.

"They're pretty . . . They know it . . . And it often makes them sleepy to style."

Florell pointed out that since the end of World War II, too many U. S. gals have allowed themselves to fall into a pattern of unimaginative, rather tailored dressing—and been "beaten badly" in a style sense by the French women, who are forced to use imagination and femininity to overcome a shortage of real beauty and money.

"But now," he said—pointing to his larger, more femininely flowered and frilled hats—"American women are coming back to their senses and dressing for men again.

"In times of emergency, the American woman is the first to draw her style-sword!"

Paper Drive To Be Conducted

C.A.P. Will Collect Papers, Magazines

In an effort to speed their national defense program in the local area, members of the New Castle Civil Air Patrol will conduct a city-wide paper and magazine drive on Saturday and Sunday, January 27 and 28, it was announced today by Capt. John J. Dachko, commanding officer of the organization.

Although the idea was born locally by the C.A.P., the members who work without salary, felt that some means of augmenting their equipment and facilities should be effected immediately and the idea of a paper drive was advanced. If sufficient funds are realized from the drive, it is hoped that a two-way radio can be installed in the Deshon annex headquarters of the organization.

Place on Curb

Residents are urged to bundle their papers, magazines, cardboard and old rags and place them on the curb Saturday. They hope to have enough equipment provided from the members and others to make a complete canvass of the city on Saturday, but if this is not done, the remainder will be picked up Sunday and recalls made to places where the paper was missed.

Papers should not be bundled in more than 50 pound packs, magazines not over 15 or 20 pounds. All should be tied securely with good heavy cord. If rain is falling the material should be placed on the porches.

Captain Donald E. Douglas has been named chairman of the drive, while his assistants are: Lt. Thomas R. Collins, Ralph Reider, Glenn Smith and James Barnes. Other members of the organization will be on the job throughout the day. They have asked that when homes are missed a call be placed to 9316 and a truck will return to pick up that which was missed.

The local Civil Air Patrol was organized three years ago as an auxiliary to the U. S. Air Force. At present there are 50 non-paid members who all volunteer their services. Residents from 17 to 70 years are eligible to join. Meetings are conducted several times a week.

Judge W. Walter Braham, chairman of Lawrence County Civilian Defense has given personal consent for the conduct of the drive which will help to better equip the county in its problem of civilian defense.

Army Anti-Aircraft Battery For Airport At Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Public Works Director Thomas Buckley announced today that an Army anti-aircraft battery will soon move into Philadelphia's international airport.

It was reported other batteries might be set up around the city's perimeter later.

Local defense officials interpreted the announcement as an answer to the city's recent request to Defense Secretary Marshall for protection.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

SALES RESISTANCE

"I really don't want this," said one of our twins when she was about 14, "but that girl at the store practically made me take it."

The girls had started buying their own clothes at about this time. And sales resistance was one of the big problems they faced. Sometimes, of course, sales people were patient, understanding and helpful. But not infrequently they took advantage of the girls' age and "put something over" on them.

A little concrete advice as to what to say and do in such situations gradually helped them resist sales pressure. They learned to be pleasant though firm in such situations.

Many a parent in the face of the problem might have decided that children were too young to cope with high-pressure sales talk. But, fortunately, my wife was convinced that it was better to give the youngsters some definite help and to let them continue to take the responsibility for their own purchases. Now, unlike many young women of their age, they are truly discriminating shoppers.

Gen. Eisenhower To Report On February 2

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Congressional sources said Gen. Eisenhower will give the nation a report on his European military survey in a radio address the night of Feb. 2.

Meanwhile, definite arrangements were completed for Eisenhower's appearance before an informal joint session of Congress at 10:30 a. m. EST Feb. 1.

The meeting in the Coolidge auditorium of the library of Congress will be open to the press, but due to lack of space the public will not be admitted.

Eisenhower is expected to confer later the same day with members of the House and Senate Armed Services committee.

Tentative plans call for the general to meet with the House Foreign Affairs and Senate Foreign Relations committees in joint session Feb. 2.

The projected nationwide radio address is expected to climax Eisenhower's series of reports on the results of his inspection of the military facilities to be made available for his anti-Communist Atlantic pact defense force.

Recess Sets New Record

Legislative Recess Is Unprecedented

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25 — (INS) — The legislative recess engineered by the Republican majorities in the State House of Representatives and Senate is unprecedented in the memories of the older employes of both houses . . . Ostensibly it was prompted by a desire of the GOP leaders to allow Governor Fine to whip his program into shape . . . Actually it was far more than that . . . Fine's program, as such, is the GOP platform ratified by the party at Pittsburgh last September . . . Administration bills translating it into necessary statute language are in preparation . . . More than anything else, the recess was the result of the "sitdown" staged by Senate Democrats over Fine's cabinet selections . . . They have four of the 34 votes needed to confirm the appointments . . . Republicans wrangled with Democrats in the open and behind closed doors but the minority party sat tight . . . When it became apparent that some horse trading would have to be done, the recess was voted over the official protests of Democrats . . . The initial squabble indicated a legislative war of attrition throughout the session with Democrats constantly guiding strategy to keep the GOP majority as close to off balance as possible . . . Democrats plan to make a weapon of their uncertainty on executive nominations in addition to the cabinet proposals.

The Democratic bloc in the legislature will back a move to lower the voting age in Pennsylvania from 21 to 18 . . . Rep. Eugene J. Hagerty, of Philadelphia, said the Philadelphia Democratic delegation composed of 29 assemblymen and six senators, will spearhead the drive with the approval of City Democratic Chairman James A. Finnegan . . . "The Defense department's recent request for congressional authorization to draft the nation's youth at 18 for military service highlights the importance of legislation to lower the voting age," said Hagerty. "If our young men and women are old enough at 18 to be asked to fight for our democracy then they ought to have some voice in running it."

The night before ex-Governor Duff was to appear in the U. S. Senate and take his oath of office, he attended a quiet dinner party tendered in Washington by a man who figured in the bitter Republican primary campaign . . . The man was Howard Rigby, of Pittsburgh, executive secretary for more than two years to the late Governor Fisher . . . Rigby frequently was seen around the State capitol prior to several speeches by Jay Cooke, defeated for the GOP gubernatorial nomination by John S. Fine . . . On May 10, 1950, in a statewide radio speech from Pittsburgh, Cooke called Rigby Duff's "close associate" . . . Public Utility Commissioner John B. Conly, appointed to the $14,000-a-year-job by Duff, is Rigby's brother-in-law.

The Pennsylvania Game commission cites reports from two game protectors to show that wildlife doesn't have a chance against motor vehicles and trains . . . William H. Shirey, of Smethport, told the commission that he personally spotted 23 deer killed on highways during December while in one 30-mile stretch of highway he spotted nine cottontails who had lost their sprint across the road . . . Norman Erickson, of Emporium, reported to the commission that he found 32 deer killed on highways during the three weeks ended January 1 . . . In one night, he added, he was called out four times to pick up dead deer.

Corn Reported As Top-Ranking Crop In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Corn today was reported as Pennsylvania's top-ranking crop in 1950 with a total value of $100,376,000.

The federal-state crop reporting service placed hay second in value with production worth $91,025,000 and wheat third at $36,450,000.

Next in line were oats, $25,452,000; potatoes, $19,451,000; commercial truck crops, $16,912,000; tobacco, $16,178,000; commercial apples, $10,395,000; barley, $5,926,000 and peaches, $4,717,000.

Although corn took top value, Pennsylvania was the 14th ranking state in corn production.

Pennsylvania topped all others in production of buckwheat and cigar-leaf tobacco, and ranked third in peaches, maple sugar and clover and timothy; fourth in grapes and sour cherries; fifth in commercial apples and maple syrup; sixth in pears and sweet cherries; seventh in all types of tobacco, potatoes and all cherries, and eighth in timothy seed.

General Assembly Of U.N. Not Likely To Meet In France

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 25.—(INS)—A reliable U. N. source said today that the French government has indicated time is too short to complete arrangements in Paris for the 1951 meeting of the General Assembly.

On the basis of this reported decision by the French government, U. N. sources believe that the 1951 assembly will meet again at Flushing Meadow, N. Y.

A final decision on the selection of the site will be made by U. N. Secretary-General Tryve Lie. Other candidate sites which have been offered to the U. N. for the assembly meeting this year are on the French Riviera; Geneva, Switzerland, Blackpool, England, and Edinburgh, Scotland.

Report Shortage Of Trained Public Health Personnel

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 25.—(INS)—Delegates to a five-state conference on local health services in civilian defense deplored today a "critical" shortage of trained public health personnel.

They recommended a full-time public health program under the direction of qualified health officers to meet the shortage.

The 125 delegates representing Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Delaware, wound up a three-day conference with a call for more field training and recruitment of additional public health officers as "a vital part of civil defense".

More than 42 per cent of the total sales from American farms are made during the months of September, October and November.

Develop Machine To Count Old U.S. Dollar Bills

By ROBERT CLARK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. — An economy-minded treasury came up with a new twist in labor-saving devices today—a machine to count old dollar bills.

Secretary Snyder announced the development of an "electric eye" counter to thumb through the five million torn and tattered paper dollars that have to be retired daily.

The treasury will install 25 of the machines to replace—at an annual saving of $250,000—80 employes who now do the job by hand.

The machines each count more than 500 dollars a minute, eight times as fast as the average employe. And they don't mind the smell, either.

Will Take Over Job

The electric eyes will take over the job of checking the silver certificates that come into the treasury for redemption after banks decide they've outlived their usefulness. Federal Reserve banks bind the old bills in bundles of 100 and cut them in half, but the treasury rechecks the count just to make sure.

The new machines, developed by the Bureau of Standards, reject packages that don't contain exactly 100 bills after counting them by means of a light beam that actuates a photo-electric system.

New money has been machine-counted for years, but until now no mechanical device had been able to keep an accurate count on bills that were wrinkled and dog-eared.

The average life of a dollar bill is about nine months—and with more than a billion in circulation just replacing the old ones is a big job.

Last year alone, 1,138,588,540 dollar bills were sent in for redemption—nearly 5 million pounds in all.

Coins, fortunately, have a much longer life span. The average life of the nearly one and a half million dollars worth of coins of all types currently held by the public is 25 to 30 years.

Total currency and coins in circulation, in case you would like to know whether you've got your share, is about 27 billion dollars—$180 for every man, woman and child in the country.

Parrots and woodpeckers have four toes on each foot, two of which point forward and two backward.

REMARRIAGE AFTER ELOPMENT

"My daughter eloped and was married with a civil ceremony and we are having her remarried in her faith. What is the proper procedure? (1) Since it will be a morning service, what should be appropriate to wear? (2) Do you send out announcements or send invitations to the church? (3) I should like to have a reception. Would that be in order?"

Answer: Usually in the case of a remarriage the ceremony is a quiet one, but not necessarily so if the church wedding takes place immediately following the civil ceremony—that is within a week or so.

(1) It would be in better taste to wear either a suit or a long crepe pastel dress rather than a bridal dress and veil.

If no one but your immediate family knows of the civil ceremony and she will marry within a week or two thereafter, she may, if she wishes, have a formal wedding, dressing as a bride and sending out engraved invitations. However, if the "news is out" this would not be correct.

(2) Generally for this type of wedding it would be better to issue informal invitations or send announcements.

(3) You may, correctly, have a reception.

Question: Please give me the correct form for the wedding invitations and announcements for a girl whose parents are deceased and whose brothers are her guardians.

Answer: Your wedding invitations and announcements should be issued in the name of your oldest brother and his wife, if he has one, thus:

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith
request the honour of your presence
at the marriage of their sister
etc. etc.

Your oldest brother should also give you away.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—(INS)—A Pittsburgh Public Works department official has been suspended on charges that he used city labor and material to rebuild his home.

He is Duncan McCarter, 57, head of the Bureau of Highways and Sewers on the Northside. Works Director James S. Devlin suspended McCarter yesterday and gave him five days to answer the charges.

Devlin said he acted on a report from the city law department.

Robbery-Kidnaping Charges Are Faced

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—(INS)—An unemployed waiter who was captured in a police chase was under arrest today in Pittsburgh in connection with a robbery-kidnaping.

Police are seeking two other men who helped to abduct and rob David Berkowitz, a salesman, of $136.

The waiter is Louis DeCarlo, 21, who is charged with robbery and kidnaping.

According to Berkowitz, the gunmen forced him to drive into an alley adjoining the Sun-Telegraph building, and robbed him.

Bayonets are thought to have received their name from the fact that they were first manufactured at Bayonne, France.

Forest Land Fires Fewer In State During Past Year

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25.—(INS)—More than 15,000 acres of state forest land were destroyed by 900 fires during 1950 compared to 32,722 acres ruined by fire in 1949, the forest and waters department reported today.

The past year was one of the most favorable on record, a department spokesman said. The best month was December with no fires breaking out on the 15 million acres of commonwealth woodlands.

Extensive fires in Clinton county last May which burned out 7,000 acres raised the average acreage destroyed per fire in 1950, the spokesman pointed out.

To fight forest blazes, 150 water towers are spread throughout the timberlands for use by 3800 fire wardens and 30,000 volunteers. More than 7000 miles of trails and roads permit easy access to the wooded areas.

Guardsman Found Dead In His Auto

NEW ULM, Minn., Jan. 25.—(INS)—Nicollet county coroner William A. Hoyt returned a verdict of suicide today in the death of a 19-year-old National Guardsman who left a note saying "I don't want to go to war and I don't want to kill anybody."

Hoyt identified the soldier as Lester O. Carstad of New Ulm, a member of the service company of the 135th infantry regiment of the Minnesota National Guard.

The unit has been federalized and left yesterday for Camp Rucker, Ala., to begin its training.

Carstad was found dead in his carbon-monoxide filled car.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 25.—The new Betty Hutton, with muscles that a weightlifter would envy and palms as calloused as a farm hand's, leaves today for Florida to flip through the air on the trapeze for Cecil B. De Mille and the circus folk at Sarasota.

The vivacious actress spent six weeks practicing acrobatics on the trapeze for her role as the lady aerialist in De Mille's "The Greatest Show On Earth". She is so letter-perfect now that the circus performers who coached her in Hollywood claim that she could get a job under the big top even under the monicker of Carrie Clapsaddle.

Real Performer

Betty whirled through her act for a limited group at Paramount the other day. The bar was at about 30 feet. Betty took off on the trapeze from a high platform, dove through the air and caught the hands of partner Billy Snyder of Ringling Brothers' circus who was hanging from another trapeze by his ankles. Then she went through all sorts of gyrations, hanging by one hand, whirling through space with Snyder clutching her ankles and doubling into a crab position.

"Aren't you proud of me?" Exclaims Betty when she makes a perfect one point sit-down landing in the net and executes a somersault to the sound stage from the net.

"They wanted to give me a double and do the closeups with mirrors and wires and all that but I wouldn't have it," says la Hutton who is game to try anything once.

The Hutton gams remain as shapely as they ever were after all the aerial practice, but the Hutton biceps are a sight to see. They bulge and are as hard as a hod carrier's.

"Imagine me playing a love scene dressed in a fancy evening gown with muscles like this," shouts Betty. "Wouldn't it be a scream?"

She soaked her hands in salt water and vinegar in order to get them toughened up for all the trapeze work. It did not do much good. They still became caloused.

Regular Trouper

Betty went through her entire repertoire. She did mounts on the stationary bar, did single flags, double flags, arabesque's, half angels and full angels and what have you.

Snyder and Antoinette Concello, of the flying concellos, gave her a big hand and called her a regular trouper. Betty's two small children think their mom has really arrived what with all the thrill stuff high in the air. The only thing they miss is the band playing when the film star swings from trapeze to trapeze.

The company, including Cornell Wilde, Dorothy Lamour, Jimmy Stewart, Charlton Heston, Gloria Grahame and Lyle Bettger, works two months in the circus winter quarters in Sarasota. Then the company moves on to New York for the circus opening in Madison Square Garden in April.

Quarryville Lodge Makes Ready For Groundhog Day

QUARRYVILLE, Pa., Jan. 25.—(INS)—The 1951 groundhog expedition of somberly-attired patriarchs toting geiger counters in keeping with the atomic age will strike out February 2 for the burrow of the weatherwise grunsow.

It will be the 43rd time that the slumbering groundhog lodge of Quarryville, Pa., will convene for the purpose of determining the weather for the six weeks following "G-Day". Following the field trip, members will retire to club rooms for a banquet and a stirring cymbal solo.

Six More Weeks Of Winter

The faithful believe that if the groundhog sees its shadow there will be six more weeks of winter.

"This year the squads will be equipped with a new gadget, the geiger counter," reported Secretary and bondless-treasurer William Urler Hensel III. "Who, better than the groundhog, is equipped to bring to the earth's surface the radio-active elements so necessary to our security in this atomic age!

"The results of this survey," added Hensel, "will be top secret and be revealed only to accredited representatives of the atomic energy commission."

Honorary Membership

Honorary membership this year, Hensel reported, will be conferred on Charles E. Wilson for his "patriotism" in sacrificing a $136,000-a-year job with the General Electric company to head the office of defense mobilization at $8000.

The 1951 ceremony will not be without a note of sadness. It will be the last time the area south of Lancaster over which the lodge's grunsow operates will be available for the affair. The Chester water authority will fill a dam soon and the water will force all groundhogs to find new abodes.

Hensel said Harvey S. Chase has been named chairman of the "displaced groundhog committee" and made responsible for having couriers on hand February 2 to "warn each groundhog as he awakes to move his residence to higher ground.

Reports On Survey

In a brief survey of the outlook, Hensel reported:

"Emerging from his slumber, our prophet will observe a world in which turmoil, that, even though he does not see his shadow, he may be tempted to return to his peaceful sleep.

"He will hear the clanking of and the use of Communistic swords.

"He will see our nation girding their loins for battle. He will see China aggressing her way into an organization of non-aggressors. He will see Congress divided on foreign policy and congressmen playing politics in the role of statesmanship.

"He will see three of our honorary members being censured: Eisenhower for taking command of the European army; MacArthur for the reverses of the Korea war and President Truman for the writing of unexpurgated letters."

Tapped for admission into the select organization this year have been William A. Frutchey, Earl Kyle, Thaddeus Ferguson and Wendell B. Singles, all of Quarryville; J. Lester Collins, of Kirkwood, and Kersey A. Bradley, of Drumore.

'Speaking Of Operations'

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—"Speaking of operations," wrote the late Irvin S. Cobb in 1915, "if an operation is such a good thing to talk about, why isn't it a good thing to write about, too?"

So the late Mr. Cobb wrote himself a small book "Speaking of Operations" which got him off the nut at the hospital and paid his quacks. It has gone through dozens of editions, sold more than 300,000 copies, sells steadily today and is pouring money into the till of his heirs and assigns.

"Blow-By-Blow Description"

While I was recently in a hospital drydock for repairs, a friend sent me Mr. Cobb's tome. It is a very funny blow-by-blow description of an operation from first examination to final feather-stitching. But as I read Mr. Cobb's confessions, it occurred to me that the book is at least as historic as it is hilarious.

It is obvious that hospital and operative techniques have so changed that Mr. Cobb's memoirs might just as readily have been written in the dark ages as only 36 years ago.

I read with envy and disbelief the basis of one of Mr. Cobb's biggest beefs: that he was forced to spend ten days flat on his back following his encounter with the men in white.

Let me tell you there is none of this leisure or self-indulgence permitted in ye modern hospital! The medics and nurses can scarcely wait for a victim to come clean from the anaesthetic before beginning setting up exercises and advanced calisthenics.

Had Me Up In Short Time

I was scarcely conscious enough to ask for a martini when my nurse had me up before an open window throwing out my chest, something I am barely able to do in the pink.

And when, four or five hours this side of the operating room, I suggested delicately that I would like to visit the bathroom, my nurse said "sure, why not? It's over in that corner."

I'll say this for the girl: she did stick my slippers on my feet, and when I looked at her reproachful gaze, she had the grace to shrug and say "things are tough all over."

From her attitude, I gathered she deemed me lucky to have been born into an era with the plumbing indoors.

Mr. Cobb objected violently to the hospital smell "compounded of iodoform, ether, gruel and something boiling. All hospitals have it," he wrote. But not any more. The hospital in which I was stached looks and is operated exactly like a hotel. "Your home away from home," including revolving bellhops and room service.

Old-Fashioned Now

And as for ether, I believe this is regarded as irrelevant, immaterial and old-fashioned as of 1951. No more is a cone fitted over the schnozz, with the slow drip, drip, drip of ether as in Mr. Cobb's case. Now, a fast jab in the arm with some kind of new anesthetic and the patient is out with the speed of jet propulsion, which is faster than light and just as easy.

I came to clear of mind, bright of eye, pink of cheek, and feeling like a million less than the surgeon's usual ten per cent. Indeed, I thought I must be in heaven, for there were three handsome men regarding me admiringly. I took a second look and perceived that one was the sawbones, one the family physician and one my spouse.

"Unless she steps in front of a truck," the first was saying to my loved one, "you're stuck with her for another 56 years."

Mr. Cobb complained bitterly that he would have starved to death if he had not surreptitiously taken to licking stamps. Apparently the practice now is to stuff the patient, as banana splits and roast beef reinforced with lamb chops were always turning up on my trays.

On the whole, I would say that hospital life today is definitely (1) more pleasant and (2) more strenuous than in Mr. Cobb's time.

However, one factor remains constant. Mr. Cobb frankly said he wrote the book about his operation because he needed money.

"Verily, one always needs money when one has but recently escaped from the ministering clutches of the modern hospital," he wrote.

Yea, verily, and amen!

Nominations Are Given Approval Of Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(INS)—The Senate foreign relations committee today approved the nomination of Stanton Griffis as ambassador to Spain and arranged for a briefing tomorrow on the forthcoming visit of French Premier Pleven.

Chairman Connally (D) Texas, announced that Secretary of State Acheson will appear in a closed session with the committee tomorrow to "brief" the members on the "questions to be considered" when Pleven confers with President Truman.

In addition to recommending confirmation of Griffis, former ambassador to Poland, Egypt and Argentina, the committee also approved these other nominations:

Coast Guard Plane On Mercy Mission

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 25.—(INS)—A coast guard airplane took off from Miami today on a mission of mercy for a polio-stricken 18-year-old coed at Florida State university in Tallahassee.

The plane, carrying a polio specialist, a trained nurse, and an iron lung which was included as a precautionary measure, will return with the young victim tonight.

She is Joyce Aylor, a freshman at Florida State and a native of Miami.

She came down with polio yesterday, and officials at Tallahassee felt she would be in a better position for treatment at Variety Children's hospital in Miami.

Miami Polio Foundation leaders heard of the girl's case and asked the coast guard to cooperate in flying the specialist and equipment necessary to bring Joyce to Miami.

Ninety per cent of Denmark's land is productive and 77 per cent is actually farmed.

In the United States, buffaloes have increased from 500 to 6,000 since 1905.

The total cost per day to all involved in World War I was $107,000,000.

Woman Shot As She Leaps From Second Floor Window

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—(INS)—A 25-year-old suburban Chicago woman, shot twice in the back by a jilted refugee cousin as she leaped from a second floor window, fought for her life today in Westlake hospital.

Vladis Jutelis, 37, the refugee, killed himself with a .38 caliber pistol as police closed in on Miss Stephanie Novicky's Melrose Park apartment last night.

Miss Novicky, who leaped from the window in an attempt to escape shots, fired by Jutelis, was reported in critical condition at the suburban hospital.

Police were summoned by a friend of Miss Novicky, 26-year-old Henry Gorve (of 7356 W. Lake) of nearby River Forest, who telephoned the girl last night while she was being held at gunpoint.

Officers arrived at the apartment building (at 100 N. Broadway) and saw Miss Novicky standing near a window.

A moment later she screamed "I'm going to jump." Officers heard two shots and saw her fall to the ground.

Miss Novicky told police Jutelis had lived with the family from his arrival in the U. S. from Lithuania in 1949 until several months ago, when her mother learned of his love and ordered him to leave.

"I'SE IN TOWN, HONEY!" IS AUNT JEMIMA'S GREETING

LIKE an all-conquering Caesar, the world's most famous pancake artist swept majestically into town today, to take possession of all appetites during her stay here.

This triumphal entry was made by Aunt Jemima who visits us in person to serve her delectable pancakes in local stores, and to encourage townsfolk to treat themselves more often to her pancakes.

Husbands welcome her visit in the hope it will put an idea into the "little woman's" mind that there is no such thing as having pancakes too often—from the male standpoint at least. And housewives rejoice at the genial Aunt Jemima's trip because it reminds them of the ease and economy with which they can prepare a favorite family feast—and because Aunt Jemima Pancakes are the answer to woman's most perplexing culinary problem—"What'll we have to eat?" For Aunt Jemima's get a welcome any time—breakfast, luncheon, supper.

Powerful New Turbojet Engine Is Developed

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Westinghouse Electric Corp., announced today that it has turned out a new turbojet engine which is believed to be the most powerful practical turbojet in the world.

The new jet, knowr as the J40, uses less fuel than its predecessor, the J34, which powers some of the nation's fastest planes, the company said.

The engine has successfully completed ground tests, a spokesman said. Its thrust is equivalent to 14,000 horsepower at modern flight speeds. When an afterburner is added to reheat exhaust gases and other changes are developed, this speed is expected to double, he added.

Westinghouse engineers designed the engine under U. S. Navy guidance.

W. B. Anderson, manager of the firm's aviation gas turbine division in Philadelphia, reported that operation of the J40 in a military plane will be "simpler for the pilot than driving his car."

Dr. Will Gordon To Start Timely Series

"Personalities of Calvary" has been chosen by Dr. Will Gordon, interim pastor of First Baptist church, as his general theme for the revival crusade for Christ. The special series of esrvices will close on Easter Sunday, March 25, opening January 28.

Each Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the church there will be a devotional study of one of the characters who played a part in the Crucifixion and Resurrection of Jesus. "Peter" will be the subject for next Sunday morning. "The Characters of the Crucifixion" will be the theme for the morning services, while "The Parables of Jesus" will be the topic for the evening series, which start at 7:30 o'clock.

Since conditions of the world today call for a "Back to the Bible Ministry," it is fitting that Dr. Gordon has planned such a timely series of sermons.

It takes six years of study in different subjects for a Swiss watchmaker to learn his trade.

Brewers Refuse To Work Today In Wage Boost Move

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Brewers refused to work at 13 western Pennsylvania breweries today in an effort to win a 25-cents hourly wage increase before the expected government wage freeze.

A union official, representing some 2,000 of the brewers, said the "work stoppage is not a strike" and added that a small group of pickets he called "weisheimers" have been ordered to withdraw.

Trucks formed long lines at the breweries as distributors moved to stock their warehouses in anticipation of a shortage.

The dispute is between local 22 of the CIO International Brewers and the Western Pennsylvania Brewers Association. Reportedly the workers were offered a 13½-cents-per-hour increase, which they refused.

Preparing For Price Probe

Soaring Food Prices To Be Investigated

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25—(INS)—The Senate Agriculture Committee is preparing today a full-scale probe into "who gets what" from soaring food prices.

Plans for the investigation were disclosed by committee chairman Ellender (D) La., who is thinking of sponsoring "mark-up control" legislation to prevent food price profiteering.

Ellender said the committee's aim will be to throw the spotlight on "gougers" operating in the food business.

A secondary purpose, he said, will be to stave of any attempt to cripple the farm price support program in connection with anti-inflation controls.

He explained:

"I want to try to explode the idea that the farm support program will in any wise interfere with any price control plan in the offing."

At the same time, Ellender served notice that he will "strenuously oppose any effort from the President on down to take away the support program."

The agriculture chairman has expressed strong opposition to a reported White House move to remove from the present price control law a section which forbids ceilings on any farm products below parity.

The Agriculture Department says that U. S. farm exports in November were running three per cent higher than they were a year ago.

The department reports that export of farm commodities during that month totaled 266 million dollars, compared with 259 million in November, 1949.

The nation's total exports last November, including both farm and non-farm commodities, also were greater. Total exports amounted to 967 million dollars, while a year ago they were 833 million dollars.

While both the total exports and farm exports both showed higher in November, the proportion of farm exports to the over-all exports declined three per cent from a year ago.

In November, 1950, agriculture exports totaled 28 per cent of all exports, compared with 31 per cent during November, 1949.

As usual, the department says, cotton held first place in value among the agricultural exports. Total cotton exports last November were valued at slightly more than 79 million dollars, an increase of 11 per cent over a year ago.

Second position of agricultural exports went to wheat and wheat flour. November, 1950, exports were valued at almost 37 million dollars, a reduction of 33 per cent from a year ago.

CHESTER, Pa.—When 10-year-old Alan Rosenthal fell from a bicycle and broke his kneecap, the Damon Runyon cancer fund profited by $6. Young Rosenthal, confined to bed with his leg in a plaster cast, charged his friends 10 cents each to put their signatures on the cast.

Auxiliary Police Force Is Planned For State Service

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Plans for training, recruiting and equipping thousands of auxiliary police for duty in critical target areas inevent of enemy attack will be discussed today at a meeting of the Pennsylvania Military and Civil Defense Commission.

State Director Alton C. Miller said it has been agreed tentatively that training and recruiting both will be administered at local levels but that policy will be defined by the commission to achieve uniformity.

The meeting will be held at the office of State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhalm in the state capitol, Miller said. State Police Capt. Emmett J. Donovan, head of the commssion's police advisory committee, will lead the discussion.

Some communities in the state already have begun recruitment and training of auxiliaries, according to Miller, and efforts will be intensified as the need for organized civil defense forces increases.

Industries Are Told How Plants Can Be Protected

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25 — (INS) —The state civil defense commission has begun distribution of 21,000 manuals telling leaders of key industries how their plants best can be protected in event of enemy attack.

The 65-page booklet emphasizes the futility of any civil defense program that fails to provide for an effective program of defense for vital industries.

"No future enemy will commit the fatal blunder of failing to attempt the destruction of this basic strength with every means available to him," says a foreword signed by Maj. Gen. Richard K. Mellon, commission chairman, and Director Alton C. Miller.

The nation is now in an "alert" period as far as civil defense is concerned, says the manual.

Two Other Periods

"Two other periods may follow at some future time," it states. "One will be when we are attacked by an enemy, with or without formal declaration of war. The other will be when our homeland is attacked by some form of devastating weapon, such as the atomic bomb."

The pamphlet issues specific recommendations to industry on how to protect itself against enemy weapons including espionage, sabotage and direct attack.

Other chapters advise how to prevent plant damage from fire and accident resulting from the increased tension of all-out war production.

Plant protection, according to the manual, primarily is the responsibility of industrial management with the cooperation of labor.

"The stakes are large," the manual points out. "The pay-off may be in terms of lives saved, business preserved. Insurance programs may protect the plant and its personnel from financial loss in the event of catastrophe but insurance does not replace men or production."

The pamphlet explains that plant protection measures seldom will demonstrate their real value until an enemy attack is made, and "it is then too late to improvise."

The pamphlet insists that present day risks are real, not speculative.

"The question is now whether there is a real danger, but solely how imminent is the danger," it adds.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Plaids, checks and polka-dots—these three. And the greatest of these is checks.

That's what designers are predicting today will be the high-fashion fodder for style news columns this spring.

In suits, coats, dresses and accessories, the trio of classic prints will be seen in ensembles that can go out from early morning to early-the-next-morning.

But the plaids should be bold and the checks should be small. And the classiest polka-dots should be fragile and quaint as a stereoptican slide of grandma.

Most popular 1951 colors for the three patterns will be combinations of black and white; mauve and purple; blue and black, and orange-yellow-brown.

Checks are expected to be an all-out favorite, especially in monotones which eliminate, rather than accentuate, an overabundance of figure.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETS

Assembly Tuesday night in the American Legion Home on Beaver street, the members of the Legion Auxiliary held their monthly session. Mrs. Nida Dickson was a special guest.

The meeting opened with the presentation of colors by Mrs. Milton Flynt, sergeant at arms and the Pledge of Allegiance. Mrs. William Sanders, chaplain, offered prayer which was followed by the repeating of the Preamble by the group.

After the roll call by Mrs. Leslie Widdowfield, secretary, the business session was conducted.

Plans were made to furnish window draperies for the home and Mrs. J. C. MacDonald and Mrs. H. J. Marshall were appointed to purchase the draperies.

A request was made that each member earn a dollar and bring it to the February meeting and to also bring old Christmas cards which will be sent to the Palsy hospital in New York City. A motion was made and approved to finance the purchase of white socks for the veterans at the Deshon hospital.

Following the business session, Mrs. Marshall told the story of the famous painting "The Angelus."

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. James Cook, Mrs. Robert Ippolito and Mrs. Lloyd Cunningham.

NORTHERN TURNPIKE?

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 25.—(INS)—State Senator C. Arthur Blass of Erie county has hinted before an Erie audience that a turnpike link will be built across northern Pennsylvania.

Blass told the Lion's club another development in the state's system of super roads is in the making.

Turnpike extensions running north and south have been authorized to Erie in the west and Scranton in the east.

JESUS—THE GREAT TEACHER

HE TALKED TO HIS LISTENERS IN PARABLES

Jesus preaches from a boat.

"Take heed what ye hear; with what measure ye mete it shall be measured unto you; and more shall be given unto you."—Mark 4:24.

Scripture—Mark 3:13—4:34.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

What makes a great teacher? He (or she) should have what we call a magnetic personality—that is one that attracts people and makes them want to listen to what is said:

A good teacher must make the thing he is talking about interesting enough to hold his listeners' attention; he must draw pictures in their minds, so to speak—make them see the things of which he speaks.

He may tell stories to illustrate the points he makes. Above all, he must be a sincere person who believes in what he is teaching, and he must be interested in the people to whom he is talking so that they can feel the warmth of his personality and be the more willing to listen and able to believe the truths he tells.

Jesus had all of these qualities. He was kindly and gentle, but firm. He believed so much in His mission and message, that He was willing to antagonize the most influential people of His day in order to tell the multitudes about it. People "listened to Him gladly."

Going up into a mountain, Jesus called those He wished to be His fellow-workers to Him. There He called the twelve, and ordained them to preach His word. They also were given the power to heal sicknesses and to cast out devils.

After that Jesus and the twelve went to a house, but the multitudes came to them in such numbers that they were not even able to eat.

Opposition to Jesus was growing. Some scribes who had come down from Jerusalem said "He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the devils He casteth out devils."

It seems impossible that anyone who has seen the Saviour, beheld the work He had done among the poor and afflicted; and heard His words, could ever think that He was in league with the devil.

Jesus called these men to Him and said, "How can Satan cast out Satan?" He pointed out that if Satan was working against himself, his kingdom couldn't last. "And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand," He told them.

Then Jesus warned them that they were blaspheming, and that for that sin against the Holy Ghost there was no forgiveness.

Jesus also proclaimed at this time that He no longer considered His mother and other members of His family as closer to Him than others. He had been told that His mother and brethren were without, seeking Him.

"And He looked round about on them which sat about Him, and said, Behold My mother and My brethren."

So eager were the people generally to hear the Master, that when He went again to the seaside they followed Him in droves. The beach was so crowded that Jesus entered a boat and taught the multitude from there. Here He began to illustrate His teaching with parables.

He said a sower went out to sow; some of the seed fell by the wayside and was eaten up by the birds, some fell on stony ground where they began to grow, but not finding enough earth in which to develop roots, when the sun came up they withered and died.

Some seed fell among weeds, that smothered them. However, some fell on good, rich soil, and they grew and flourished and produced fruit abundantly.

Most of His listeners doubtless lost the point of the story—just as children and young people in high school and college often hear what is said but it makes no impression on them.

Others grasp a part, but other things seeming more important to them, they forget the message; or they allow other matters to crowd them out of their minds, as the weeds smothered hte plant.

However, others doubtless remembered what Jesus had said and tried to learn the lesson He would have taught them.

The apostles, however, were fortunate. When they were alone with their Master they asked Him the parable's meaning, and He explained it to them.

"And with many such parables spake He the word unto them, as they were able to hear it . . and when they were alone, He expounded all things to His disciples."

GRINDSTONE

When Grandad was a boy he had to turn the grindstone when his Dad sharpened his ax or his scythe or the butcher knife.

Sometimes he went to the grist mill and watched the mill stones grind the wheat into flour.

He had a fine set of grinders in his mouth then. He didn't pay much attention to them. He did not use a tooth brush and did not look for cavities.

When a tooth ached he got it pulled.

Now he has a complete outfit of store teeth. He wishes that he had his own teeth.

He keeps after Butch about his teeth. He makes him use his tooth brush every day. If he notices a little brown spot he hustles him to the dentist.

Libel Suit Filed Against Margiotti

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Mrs. Marjorie Matson yesterday filed a libel suit against Pennsylvania Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, seeking damages in excess of $2,500.

Mrs. Matson claims that "an attorney practicing in Allegheny county" wrote and circulated a letter in which he "falsely, wickedly and maliciously" accused her of Communist tendencies.

Margiotti is demanding that Mrs. Matson be fired from her job as an assistant Allegheny county district attorney.

Meanwhile, Judge Samuel A. Weiss set 1 p .m. tomorrow as the time to hear arguments on the temporary injunction he granted Monday halting Margiotti's hearing on his charges against Mrs. Matson.

Warns On Ruse By Chinese

TOKYO, Jan. 25.—(INS)—A U. S. Air Force official warned today against a possible Chinese Communist ruse in talk of a cease fire and negotiated peace in the Korean War.

The official stressed the determination of General MacArthur's command to continue to level crippling air blows against the enemy despite the talk of peace.

As an example of this determination he cited yesterday's attack on Communist railroad marshalling yards and supply dumps at Komusan in the far northeastern corner of Korea only 35 miles from the Korean-Siberian border.

The official—stationed at headquarters of the U. S. Far East Air Force in Tokyo—told International News Service:

"We have seen the chinese Communists use cease fire proposals before as a political weapon against Chinese Nationalists.

"We cannot afford to be taken in by the same ruse."

He warned that Red talk of a negotiated peace "might have political effects which would force a slackening of our military effort and leave us wide open for another Chinese ground offensive in Korea."

Gloria Swanson Is Leading Celebrity

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Celebrity Service Inc. said today that on the basis of 1,500,000 telephone inquiries made to it last year Gloria Swanson is the leading celebrity in the United States.

The organization, which acts as a clearing house for information and research, said number two on its list of the leading ten was Tallulah Bankhead, with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in third place.

The remainder of the list was in the following order Author John Hersey, Faye Emerson, William Boyd (Hopalong Cassidy), Margaret Truman, Yankee baseball star Phil Rizzuto, Actress Carol Channing and playwright Gian-Carlo Menotti.

Mayor To Make New Request For Traffic Signal At Norwood

Mayor John F. Haven stated today he had received sanction from the traffic division of the Pennsylvania department of highways, at Harrisburg to install part-time traffic signals at Highland and Norwood avenues, but he said such a signal is undesirable.

He said that Monday he will present the highway department's sanction to council, and request council's permission to make another request for a traffic light which will operate from 8:30 a.m. until 9:30 p.m.

Part-time Operation

The highway department told the mayor that traffic from Norwood avenue into highland avenue, was not of sufficient volume for a continuous signal operation but in view of the fact that children cross the intersection, the department would permit a part-time operation.

The department, the mayor reported, did not take into consideration the volume of traffic which flows north and south in Highland avenue and it is a point dangerous for anyone to cross at this point.

He said that unless an aged person waited at times from 10 to 15 minutes, they were apt to be struck by cars, hence another request will be made for a light to operate between 8:30 a.m. and 9:30 p.m.

At the Norwood-Highland avenue intersection there are several business houses, and he feels the department would be justified in authorizing an 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. traffic signal operation.

Good Nursing Care Important Item In Treatment Of Polio

When infantile paralysis strikes, good nursing care plays a vitally important role in helping speed the patient's recovery.

During the 1950 polio epidemics, second worst in history, March of Dimes funds paid for the salaries, maintenance and transportation of over 1,000 nurses recruited by the American Red Cross for polio duty. Besides these, more than 500 nurses recruited before 1950 were still on assignments for patients assisted by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

By early December, the Foundation had assisted in the assignment of 75 nurses for duty in Pennsylvania. Gifts to the 1951 March of Dimes will continue this important service.

Discuss Price Control On Milk

County Dairymen In Discussion Meeting

In order that Lawrence county dairymen may be kept informed on problems affecting them, a discussion meeting on Federal price fixing in regard to milk was held in the court house Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association.

This was the second in a series of meetings of this nature, the matter of security for the farm operator having been discussed at a previous meeting.

Hood Leads Dicsussion

Kenneth Hood of Penn State college, extension agricultural economic specialist, was present and pointed out the fact that milk is a most unusual commodity. It is bulky, highly perishable and subject to stringent sanitary regulations, which require considerable expense on the part of the producer. It cannot be stored any length of time, thus requiring daily marketing, and because of its nature is more difficult to move in market channels which other commodities use. Mr. Hood led the discussion which followed.

A number of viewpoints on the subject of federal price control were presented. It was pointed out that approximately half the milk sold in bottles in the country is under some form of price control, either federal or state. Milk in the Philadelphia is subject to Federal control, while that in the remainder of the state is under the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission.

No attempt was made to secure a concrete expression of the opinion of the large number of dairymen present, the idea being merely to keep dairymen informed of the regulations to which they are subject, and to stimulate their thinking in the matter.

The next in the series of meetings will take place on February 28, when the matter of farm cooperatives will be the topic to be aired.

Communist Party Czech Leader Is Ousted From Place

LONDON, Jan. 25 — (INS) — A Reuters dispatch from Prague said today that reliable sources reported Mrs. Maria Svermova, assistant secretary general of the Czech Communist party, has been relieved of her duties.

No reason was given for her removal as a member of the party central committee. But it is believed the step is connected with the arrest last November of Otto Sling, principal regional Communist party secretary of Brno.

Mrs. Svermova also is a member of the Communist-dominated Czech Parliament.

Will Make Charge In Rockne Shooting

WICHITA, Kas., Jan. 25.—(INS)—Wichita authorities said today they will lodge a charge of felonious assault against Joseph Novacek, 33, in connection with the shooting of William D. Rockne, 35-year-old son of the late Knute Rockne, former Notre Dame football coach.

Novacek, a Wichita used car dealer, told police after the mysterious shooting Saturday night that young Rockne tried to force his way into the Novacek home.

Police, however, said Rockne told them he was wounded as he lay on the ground after being felled by a blow from Novacek.

Rockne apparently is recovering in St. Francis hospital, despite wounds in the chest and thigh. His mother flew from her home in South Bend, Ind., to be with him.

Air Force Reserve Wings Called Are To Be Doubled

NEW YORK, Jan. 25—(INS)—The U. S. continental air command announced that 15 of the 21 air force reserve wings being called up for the air force will be broken into smaller units or their members will be assigned individually throughout the air force.

The air command said this is being done "for the most effective use of the trained and skilled personnel."

Involves 150,000 Men

The recent call ordering air force reserve forces into active military service involves about 150,000 men and is designed to increase air force manpower to 917,000 as soon as possible. Included in the call are at least 12 National Guard wings, 21 air reserve wings and unassigned reserve personnel.

Today's announcement said although the reserve wings will be ordered into active service as units, they will not, in all cases, remain as units. Fifteen of the reserve wings will be either broken down into smaller components, such as squadrons, or their members will be reassigned as individuals throughout the air force.

Six reserve troop carrier wings are being retained as units.

Maj. Gen. Williard H. Hale, commanding general of the continental air command, said:

"We are extremely sorry that the morale and spirit that has been engendered through the past several years of training together as units must be destroyed by some of these actions.

"We would like to utilize all the reserve wings as units, but the structure of the air force as a whole would be unbalanced were we to do so at this time.

Must Use Experience

"So we are forced to use the experience and maturity that is represented by the personnel of certain of these units to augment and strengthen some of the bomber and fighter type wings which are already in existence, or planned for the immediate needs of the air force.

"The six reserve troop carrier wings being retained as units were scheduled in order to take advantage of the training and logistic facility available at their home bases. These wings will now train on a full-time basis under which they have maintained their position. This training will continue at the current home bases for an indefinite period of time."

The continental air command has been made the agency through which the reserve units and individuals will receive their orders to active military duty.

Each unit placed on orders is being notified in order to permit the maximum opportunity for the personnel to arrange their affairs. A minimum of one month prior notice before the reporting date for active service is assured in all cases.

Catholic Veterans To Present Benefit

New Castle Catholic War Veterans of Post 741 will stage a benefit show on Friday, February 2, for local boys who are stationed with the 28th Infantry Division at Camp Atterbury, Ind.

The show will be presented in Ben Franklin junior high school auditorium and the curtain will go up at 8 p.m. Proceeds for this event will be used to purchase rosaries, Sunday missals, altar supplies and chaplain supplies for the service men.

Included on the program will be the Youngtown Sheet & Tube Chorus a pantomine, magicians and other clever acts.

Chairman of the show is C. F. Navarra. He is being assisted by a committee in charge.

Edwin Lewis Plans Organ Recital

The organ recital to be given by Edwin Lewis at the First Methodist church on Thursday evening, February 1 at 8:30 o'clock is an event eagerly anticipated by music lovers of this city.

The church has recently spent over $15,000 in rebuilding and modernizing the organ, making it one of the outstanding organs of this district. The work has been carried out under the supervision of the late David Aston, who came to New Castle to install the Greer Memorial organ at the Cathedral.

Admirers of Mr. Lewis' playing are prepared for a recital of exceptional merit. The program will be open to the public without charge.

Almost everyone has to borrow money to build a home. But your bank or building and loan association give very thorough and careful consideration to the type of construction you have in mind before granting the loan. You earn better money rates in many instances (that is, lower interest) and more liberal terms if your home is to be of "approved construction".

For example, if your home is to be built of Concrete Masonry, which is the best guarantee of fire-safety, storm safety, low upkeep cost and lifetime durability . . . then your chances of securing highly favorable terms are much better than if you plan to use less desirable materials. A Concrete Masonry home makes a good "money risk" for the financing company — usually at a real saving to the home builder.

Another thing . . . when you build with Concrete Masonry, your home will still be in excellent condition many years after you have paid off the mortgage, saving you the necessity for making additional loans for "reconditioning a run-down house". Any way you look at it—it pays to build with Concrete Masonry!

Spence Named For Festival

All-State Chorus Festival Scheduled For Ellwood City

E. C. Book, supervisor of vocal music, announces the selection of Thomas Spence, senior at the New Castle senior high school, as the one who has been selected to participate in the All-State Chorus festival which is to be held this year in Ellwood City on the dates of February 8, 9, and 10.

On January 11, 12, and 13 six students from the high school choral music department journeyed with Mr. Book to New Bethlehem, Pa., where the Mid-Western Chorus festival was held; this being classified as a district event. The students who went from the local high school were: Gail Brown, soprano; Madelon Reinhard, alto; Bruce Billman, tenor; Floyd Cotton, bass; Ed. McClelland, bass; Tom Spence, bass.

Make Good Showing

All of the students made a very good showing on the tryouts which were held, with four of the six placing within the first six chairs of their particular section of the chorus. Selections were made from these tryouts for State chorus participation.

The Mid-Western chorus at New Bethlehem numbered approximately 165 voices from the high schools of the mid-western section of the state. Earl Willhoite from the Fred Waring organization was guest conductor.

At Ellwood City

The state chorus festival at Ellwood City on February 8, 9 and 10 will find a 210 voice chorus under the direction of John Raymond from Lafayette college, Easton, Pa. Mr. Raymond was also formerly connected with the Fred Waring organization. These students will be coming from all parts of the state for this festival. The experiences for the students will be similar to that of the district festivals that they have attended, with concerts being held on the evenings of February 9 and 10.

Any person who desires tickets for either of these concerts may contact Paul Gehm, Lincoln high school, Ellwood City, or by contacting Edward C. Book, New Castle senior high school.

To Charter Busses

Plans are being made to charter a couple of busses to take students to one of the concerts, and if any other interested people of the city can attend, they can rest assured that it will be an evening well spent.

It will be at least four years before All-State chorus will be in this vicinity again, so as many as possible should plan to hear this fine chorus in concert.

SHADE CARE

NEW YORK—If your lampshades look droopy, now's the time to give them a facelifting. The easiest method is to try brushing them. But if they still look dreary after that, a quick shampoo will do the trick. There are two things to watch, though, before you resort to the shampoo method. Check to see whether the frame is rustproof. Also whether the fabric is sewed or pasted on.

Fightin' Parson Still In Action

New Bedford Man Shows Great Bravery

New Bedford's "Fightin' Parson," Captain Logan E. Weston is still in their "pitching" according to the latest word reaching here from Korea. The former county man's latest "contact" with the enemy meant death to three Chinese Reds in a hand-to-hand battle in an enemy machine gun nest.

Returning to battle after two months hospitalization, following multiple wounds received in action, he was in command when his men were surrounded by Chinese troops and communications disrupted.

Weston, who has already been much decorated, boarded a jeep, determined to penetrate enemy lines and summond American help for his embattled unit. The speeding vehicle took him safely through the first line of fire, but a lone enemy machine gun at a road block shot at him, disabling the jeep.

The fightin' preacher, who was so dubbed due to his having prayer with his men before going into each skirmish, miraculously escaped harm from the fusillade. Dismounting from his bullet-riddled and useless jeep, Captain Weston crawled through underbrush to the ditch from where the machine gun had been fired. He plunged into the pit and single-handedly disposed of the three Chinese soldiers who manned the gun. Subsequent reinforcements arrived to relieve his company from encirclement.

Born in New Bedford, Weston graduated from Transylvania Bible school at Freeport. He had hope to get in as a chaplain but had not had time to meet the requirements before the present conflict started. Captain Weston was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross in August of 1950 when he led his men of the 27th Infantry in an attack which killed 400 North Koreans, 27 of them credited personally to Weston.

He is married and has two sons, the youngest, aged 6 months, Logan Merrill, being named for Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill, leader of the famous Marauders.

The word delirium means literally being off the straight line or furrow.

George Washington never actually occupied the White House.

Television Aids School Teachers In Milwaukee

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Television brought back the three R's today for Minneapolis children vacationing since Tuesday because of a strike by the public school system's janitors and engineers.

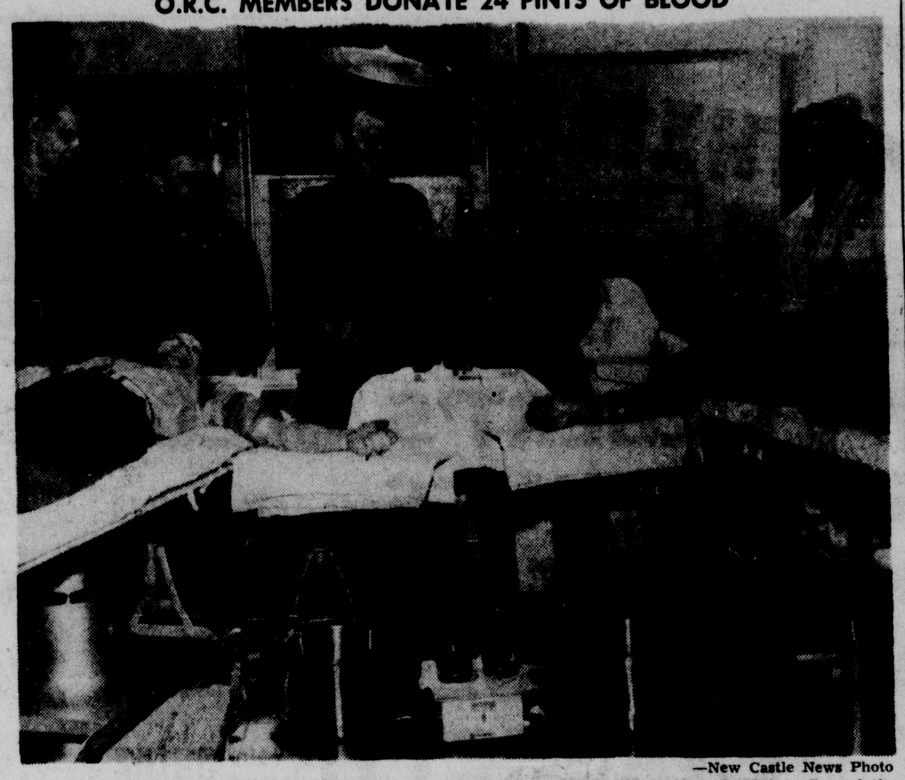

A Minneapolis television station (WTCN-TV) went on the air for two hours this morning with teacher-directed programs for pupils.

The video curriculum, which will continue daily as long as the strike continues, includes science, music, art, vocabulary building, speech, geography and homemaking.

The strike has shut down all but three of the city's 94 schools. The janitors and engineers are seeking a $30 and $50 monthly salary increase.

O.R.C. MEMBERS DONATE 24 PINTS OF BLOOD

New Castle's "blood bank" was nearly empty when the 745th QM Reclam & Maint. Co., of the Organized Reserve Corps started donating blood at the Jameson Memorial hospital Wednesday evening. When the ORC "blood giving" party was over, the bank had been increased by 24 pints. Pictured here are: (left, lying down) Capt. Harry McKissick, C. O. of the 745th; (right, lying down) 1st. Lt. Harvey Black, as they make their donation to the blood bank. Looking on and waiting their turn are: (left to right standing) Lt. Francis G. Hall, SFC Wilbur G. Shibler, SFC Jacob Golling and Sgt. Norman P. Gavroy. Mrs. Florence Moore, Red Cross blood bank technician is on the right.

The local ORC unit under Capt. William P. Stough, unit instructor, began its blood donating program with this first group of donors. Each company of men in the Organized Reserve Corps here will give blood to the local "blood bank" under their newest community spirited program.

This is only one of the many projects entered into by the ORC as they train men for future military service. Public spirited projects like their "blood giving" parties is part of an overall program to instill a "esprit de corps" in the men, making them aware of their responsibilities to their community as well as to their country.

Capt. Stough, although not in the 745th, gave blood with this first group. One civilian donated along with the group, he was Robert Baird. The other donors were: Pvt. John F. Sullivan, Pfc. James DiBernardo, Cplt. Gregg Ritchey, Jr., Cpl. Jacob Sainato, Cpl. Julian Retort, Cpl. Alfred Retort, Cpl. Norman Lupo, Sgt. Oriento Zarlingo, Sgt. Guy Withrow, Sgt. Harry Jones, Sgt. Louis Gregg, Jr., Sgt. Carmen Chiaro, SFC William Sullivan, M/Sgt. Charles Dance, 1st Lt. Thomas Toney, and 1st Lt. Charles Garbett.

Charges Officials Campaigning For Recognition Of Reds

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Sen. Malone (R) Nev., charged today that "pro-Communist" government officials are conducting a campaign for the recognition in the United Nations of the Chinese Reds.

Malone in a prepared Senate speech warned against what he termed "carefully planned propaganda" for the recognition of the Red regime in the UN. He declared:

"There are so-called Americans in government positions working for the recognition at the very time Chinese Reds are slaughtering our American boys in Korea."

Malone said that "the current behind-the-scenes actions of government officials" is a part of a plan "the pattern of which is clearly discernible to anyone who will examine it."

Priority System Important Factor Declares Baruch

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Elder Statesman Bernard Baruch declared today the most important factor in all-out mobilization is a sound priority system, and not price controls alone."

Baruch made the statement before taking off from New York for his South Carolina estate. He told newsmen at the airport that the priority system is a fundamental necessity to a firm mobilization program.

"They are making such a point of price controls alone," he said, "but that is only part of it. Priorities are the most important thing in all-out mobilization."

Baruch has long advocated all-out mobilization. He reaffirmed that view today, stating:

"America should arm and arm quickly to be prepared to defend that which it stands for and to protect those allied with us."

Two U.S. Cruisers Are Transferred To Chilean Government

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Two U. S. cruisers—The Brooklyn and Nashville—today were formally transferred to the Chilean government in a brief flag-raising ceremony at the Philadelphia naval base.

The transfer papers were given to Chilean Ambassador Felix Nieto Del Rio by Capt. Willard J. Suits, commandant of the Philadelphia group of the Atlantic Reserve Fleet.

A Chilean spokesman said the vessels will be re-named the General O'Higgins and the Captain Prat under the commands of Capt. Donald McIntyre and Capt. Jorge Arcos.

Also present at the ceremony were Rear Adm. Roscoe E. Schuirmann, commandant of the Fourth Naval District, and Vice Adm. Immanuel Holger, chief of the Chilean naval mission to Washington.

New Yorkers Smoked More Than 40 Billion Cigarettes In Year

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 25.—(INS)—The state tax commission said today that New Yorkers smoked more than 40 billion cigarets last year. This was a record and comprised 11 per cent of the nation's total.

Taxing at the rate of three cents a pack, the state derived a total of $59,200,000 from the smokes. This also was a record.

The Stockton and Darlington railway in England was the first public railway in world.

Elaborate Plans To Guard Eisenhower On Ottawa Visit

OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Elaborate security plans were drafted in Ottawa today to guard Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower during his visit to the Canadian capital tomorrow.

Armed guards will surround Rockcliff airport where the commander of Atlantic Pact forces is scheduled to land about noon Friday. All persons seeking admission to the field will be closely screened.

Eisenhower will confer with Prime Minister St. Laurent, Defense Minister Brooke Claxton and other cabinet members and defense chiefs.

Tarring and feathering was originated by Richard the Lionheart as a punishment for robbers.

Symphony Board Elects Members

Members of the board of directors of the New Castle Symphony association met Wednesday evening in Donati's auditorium, with President Worrell M. Jones, conducting business.

With the resignation of Quentin Craft as treasurer, Alfonso Scarazzo was appointed to that office. Mrs. James W. Moorehead, recent First Lady of the Year, was elected as recording secretary.

New members of the board include Rev. Fr. Stephen J. Kolcum and Mrs. Mary Carrigan Czar.

As there were no rehearsals during the holiday period, the concert scheduled for January 31 will be postponed until a later date. The symphony orchestra is now rehearsing for that occasion.

Fesler Accepts Minnesota Football Coaching Job

Succeeds Bernie Bierman; Is Given 3-Year Contract

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 25.—(INS)—The University of Minnesota had a new football coach today because six weeks away from the sport were too long for Wesley Fesler.

Fesler gave up his brief venture into the real estate business to accept a three-year contract yesterday at $14,000 a season to succeed Bernie Bierman, who resigned near the end of last season.

Curly-haired, three-time All-American Fesler resigned as coach of Ohio State Dec. 9 because he said the pressure for victories was affecting his health.

WES FESLER

Taking Aides Along

He will bring assistants Lyal Clark and Dick Fisher with him from Ohio State when he takes command of the Gophers in April for spring practice.

Fesler's appointment fell with the surprise of a bombshell on the inhabitants of Minneapolis and Columbus. Fans in both cities had not considered Fesler a candidate for any football job since he had gone to work for John W. Galbreath's real estate firm.

But newspapers and groups which had clamored for the ouster of Bierman and his single wing were among the first to congratulate Athletic Director Ike Armstrong upon his selection of single wing coach Fesler.

Minnesota's new coach used both the single wing and the T-formation at Ohio State last year. The single wing was the dominant formation, however.

Football First Love

Fesler said he was returning to football because he "couldn't forget about the game after 19 years of experience." The 42-year-old coach said he was unable to keep his mind on the real estate business. He add:

"I was thinking of football. That's my life work. But I want to make it clear that I went to John Galbreath for a place in his business. It's a wonderful business. I took the examination and passed but football soon occupied my thoughts."

Fesler said he did not seek the Minnesota job.

Bierman said he had no definite plans for himself.

Eagles Beat Yanks In Important Senior Recreation Contest

Eagles defeated the Yankees 41-39 Wednesday night on the Benjamin Franklin floor to take undisputed possession of first place in the National Senior Recreation league.

The game, which may have been the deciding game in the league, was tied up at 15-15, 21-21, 27-27, 32-32 and 39-39. Joseph broke the 39-39 tie with a long shot with 15 seconds to play.

The Eagles have now won 10 straight games and if they can get by their next five games will play the American Senior winner at George Washington junior high floor in the City Recreation tourney on Feb. 27 and 28.

Polio Benefit Triple-Header Set For Feb. 2

Plans for one of the biggest basketball attractions of the season in New Castle—a triple-header at George Washington junior high school on Feb. 2—are nearing completion.

These games, to be played for the benefit of the Polio Fund, match four of the county's finest independent teams plus two teams of unknown quality in a special feature.

Main attractions will be the games between Universal and United and between the K. Pulaskis and the East Brook Boosters. In between these tilts, the WKST Misfits will match talents with the New Castle News Clowns.

All four of the independent teams to appear on the card rank in the top five in the county. Universals (17-2) and United (9-2) are long-time rivals as are the East Brook Boosters (9-6) and the K. Pulaskis (13-5).

The program is being promoted by the Lawrence County Chapter of the National Polio Foundation, to which funds will go. Admission price is one dollar, tax included, per person.

Tickets may be obtained at the Sporting Goods store, Eckerd's, YMCA, Morella's, managers of the competing teams, or from members of the New Castle Kiwanis club.

In charge of arrangements for the program are Kenneth McLure, Robert A. Loudon and Dave Gatrall.

K. Pulaskis Meet Sharon Tonight

The K. Pulaskis will be striving tonight to make it two wins in the row over the same Sharon C.I.O. quintet that they defeated Monday evening at the Farrell junior high gym, 96-80. Game time will be 8:15. In the preliminary game the Pulaski "Cubs" will meet a strong local independent team, at 7:15 p.m.

Sunday afternoon the K. Pulaskis will meet the strong Slippery Rock Clowns composed of former high school stars from Westview, Peabody, Avonworth, and Turtle Creek who are now attending Slippery Rock College.

The official dates for the Hank A.C. and K. Pulaski series will be announced in Mondays sports page. The rosters of both teams must be in for Saturdays sports publication. No changes can be made then unless of injury to some player participating in the game.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

JUDGING from present indications, promotion of boxing and wrestling here this summer will be akin to shoving one's head into a lion's mouth, a risk few care to take. The government has clamped down on material for amusement places, hence there are no prospects of a sportsorium being erected.

Promoters have only Flaherty Memorial field available, unless they choose to run attractions beneath a Big Top, as was done at Erie, Pa., when promoters staged a 20-round fight between Battling Terry and Joe Kid Kansas.

Flaherty field is a big plant, and, therefore, is expensive to operate, hence the rental must be commensurate. So far, only two fights paid off there, and in each of the affrays.

To procure a Big Top, circus seats and a ring would cost plenty, hence it will be a promoter's problem—whether to try and procure Flaherty field or to rent a Big Top, plus equipment, for ring attractions.

Some years ago the city was better fixed for a paying ring promotion than it now enjoys. In those days, Pozza, Brothers, Moran and other local boxers were "going good." Bell, Sabotin, Marotta, out-of-towners, were popular.

Nowadays, Brothers apparently has passed out of the local fight picture, as has Pozza, although Here and There read in a Pittsburgh newspaper recently that John Loccisano said Pozza, Moran and Higgins had returned to training .

As for wrestlers, the grapplers' booking agents did most to kill off the exhibitions here. They shifted from name cards to only six grapplers, mostly unknowns.

When Frank Talaber, booking agent of Columbus, complained to Here and There one night of a "write-up", the writer told Frank that he and the clique were responsible for the dearth of paying patrons.

Talaber promised to "go along" with the Jefferson A.C. and send in name wrestlers. However, excepting a few, none were sent here, and wrestling attendance failed to recuperate.

However, boxing and wrestling can both be revived here. All that is necessary is to use only name, or nationally knowns, and good local performers, of which there is a dearth in New Castle.

—o—

SOME TIME AGO Here and There suggested that because of basketeers standing six feet, plus some inches, it might be a good idea to raise the hoops. This was advocated recently in a metropolitan newspaper. What chance has a team composed of five feet, six inch players, compared to men who can reach up and lift the ball into the hoops? . . . The dog training area of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association along the Nashua road will be closed for 10 days to give the 60 rabbits imported from Missouri a chance to become acclimated. . . . And now that a bounty of four dollars will be paid on red fox within a few months, some may procure good fox hounds to run 'em down next winter. . . . One of the most difficult animals to trap is a fox. . . . Talking of wolverines, it is reported that one can be chained to a tree, and in circling it will never become tangled in the chain. . . . Dick Davis, the ex-basketeer, now a city solon, has his desk adorned with a basketball trophy won in his younger days, although he is yet not more than 10 years past voting age. . . . Merle Hoover, the caterer, reports that many notables stop in at night, traveling through the city. . . . Inseparable companions, Sherman Levine and his cigar. . . . Harry Helmick likes nothing better than to wade a creek casting for trout or hooking a bass. . . . "Pat" Patterson, the Union High tutor, has been hunting crow at the break of dawn.

Giles Supports Happy Chandler

Reds Owner Says 'Job Well Done'

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 25.—(INS)—Baseball commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, voted out by major league owners, is assured of the continued support of at least one club boss—Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds.

Giles reiterated his endorsement of Chandler last night at the baseball commissioner's annual press-radio dinner in Cincinnati, saying Chandler "has done a capable and honest job".

Chandler said he is proud "baseball has never been touched by gambling which has hurt other sports". He added:

"If, when my tenure in office is finished, baseball remains untouched by gambling, I will feel that I have done my job."

Barons Defeat Hershey Bears

(By International News Service)

American Hockey league players may be wondering today if they can get paid time and a half for working overtime.

Four of the league's teams had to go into extra sessions last night to settle their games.

Cleveland's veteran Murdo McKay came through midway in the overtime period to hand the Barons a 4-3 victory over the rough Hershey Bears.

Jean Paul Lamirande turned the trick for the St. Louis flyers with an unassisted goal in the overtime period for a 5-4 victory over Springfield.

Hornets Win

The Pittsburgh Hornets jumped into a tie for second place in the league's western division by beating Cincinnati, 3-1.

The Buffalo Bisons trimmed the Providence Reds, 6-4.

Tonight Hershey goes to Providence and Springfield visits Indianapolis.

Institution Budget Ready

Controller Submits It To Commissioners

County Controller Andrew M. Dodds has submitted the budget for the institution department to the county commissioners for 1951. The budget is now upon public display and will be on display for twenty days. Following that the commissioners have ten days to alter it if they wish before approval.

There is a possibility that some cuts will be made in the totals submitted. As the budget is now there is some doubt that the one mill tax levy can be maintained. With a few cuts here and there the commissioners feel they can hold it at one mill.

Going into 1951 there was a balance of $71,455.65 on hand. Revenues from all sources for the year are estimated at $112,162.50 which would give the department a woking capital of $197,338.04. Real estate would provide $95,062.50 of the receipts.

Expenditures are estimated at $175,679. In 1950 the expenditures actually made totalled $125,882.39. Under the budget as it is presently made up the estimated balance at the end of the year would be around $8,000 a precarious balance if any emergency expenditures became necessary.

The largest expenditure listed is the operation of the county home which is the chief work of the institution department. In 1950, $72,057.65 was spent. In 1951 it is estimated it will cost $90,922.

FOOD ALLOWANCE UP

By an order of the court, Sheriff Frank L. Coen is now allowed $1 per day for feeding prisoners. Previously the amount allowed was 75 cents but the rising cost of foodstuffs necessitated an increase.

ONE SENTENCE

H. J. Copple was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs and thirty days in the county jail for reckless driving. He will be deleased in three days if the fine and costs are paid.

Not Yet Time To Employ Laborers

Joseph F. Medure, department of parks head, today in answer to a question as to when "clean up time" would start at Cascade Park, said the time has not yet arrived, and work will not begin there until weather conditions are more satisfactory. It is probable the same men who worked there last year will do the work.

GUARANTEED WARM

PHILADELPHIA — The Philadelphia zoo's latest arrival is literally an overcoat on the hoof. It's an alpaca, an animal with such abundant fleece it sports an overcoat guaranteed to keep it warm no matter how bitter the winter winds may howl. One of the alpaca's keepers described the animal as resembling "an over-grown poodle dog with its fur hanging down almost to the ground."

MARCH OF DIMES HELPS DONNIE WALK

Little Donnie Stoner, stricken with polio last fall, which hospitalized him for a long time, is happy again. He now has a pair of braces to help him walk, and with their aid, he is able to get about, after weeks of helplessness.

Donnie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy D. Stoner, of Sixth street, West Pittsburg. He is shown above taking a few steps in the office of a local doctor, where the braces were fitted, before going home to put his new walking aids to a further test.

Your contribution to the March of Dimes has helped to secure the treatment Donnie needed to aid him to get well again after being stricken with this ailment.

Camera Fans To Have Opportunity Of Course At YW

Beginning the week of February 12, an eight weeks course for Photo Hobbyists will open at the Y. W. C. A. with R. H. Boak as instructor. Men and women, old and young, all may join.

Mr. Boak is well known for his expert skill in this field. He says instruction will be given in camera composition, camera technique and guidance in all phases of both movies and stills such as color photography, the setting up of lights, and actual taking of pictures.

Mr. Boak's major interest at the present time is in movies. He estimates that around 1,000 people in New Castle now own movie cameras. Movie instruction will include splicing and editing. Editing is the insertion of a section of one film into another film, an act often performed in commercial movies in order to improve the story.

Camera technique includes the study of lens as to focus, light, diaphragm opening, the use of filters. For example, the use of a filter makes a picture of clouds better by cutting down the blues. Mr. Boak told in his interview with the Y. W. C. A. director about seeing some beautiful clouds one day but he had no filter. He happened to be wearing sun glasses so he used the paraloid lens in his glasses and took what proved to be a very good picture of the clouds. Ingenuity in taking pictures is a valuable asset.

A point to be emphasized in the course is that one can have success without a large outlay of money. One can put a lot of money into photography or just a little. The amount of money invested does not determine the success of a picture nor the fun one will have. With a $12 outfit one may take very acceptable pictures and have even more enjoyment than the person with a $300 camera.

A newcomer in the field of photography is bound to make mistakes but he will make fewer after being in a class of this kind. He may not know what kind of camera to buy or points to look for. F34 or any other number will mean nothing to him. Guidance in buying a camera will be given with perhaps a stock of them on hand for visual aid.

Camera technique is a vast field and it will be impossible to touch on all its phases. One of the most important things Mr. Boak wants the people in the course to get is fun, fun with each other, fun in learning to take pictures.

Anyone entering the class and having a camera should bring it the first night.

Register now for any Y. W. C. A. class by stopping at the information desk any day except Sunday, any hour up to midnight.
